Ike May Fly To W. Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower gave notice Friday he might fly to Europe to help rally free nations into a "genuine partnership" needed to protect their peoples better from Russia's threats.

The White House disclosed this prospect in a final communique summing up Eisenhower's three days of talks with Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan on moves to meet Russia's stepped-up military-scientific challenge.

The 1,500-word windup statement calls for a meeting of "special character" by representatives of the 15 North Atlantic Treaty (NATO) nations in mid-December. "The arrangements which the nations of the free world have made for collective defense and mutual help are based on the recognition that the concept of national self-sufficiency is now out of date," the Eisenhower-Macmillan statement said.

"The countries of the free world are interdependent and only in genuine partnership, by combining their resources and sharing tasks in many fields, can progress and safety be found. For our part, we have agreed that our two countries will henceforth act in accordance with this principle."

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty and C. Peter Hope, Macmillan's press aide, issued the joint communique which followed four private talks between the leaders lasting nine hours.

Macmillan then left by plane for Ottawa. He said he was "very satisfied" with Eisenhower's promise to keep "close and fruitful collaboration" between American and British atomic scientists.

To a barrage of reporters' questions, the White House said it "would not rule out" the possibility that Eisenhower and Macmillan would both represent their governments at the forthcoming NATO council session.

Eisenhower and Macmillan said they would seek to forge a British-American partnership which would serve "as an example which we believe can and should spread among the nations of the free world."

These main points were set forth: 1. Eisenhower will ask Congress to change the 1946 Atomic Energy Act in order to permit more secret information to be swapped with British scientists and those of other friendly nations.

The White House refused to say whether this meant revival of the wartime British-American partnership in developing weapons, including missiles and atomic-hydrogen bombs.

2. Russia's "threats directed against Turkey" give "solemn significance" to American-British NATO treaty pledges to help this North Atlantic pact ally repel any aggression.

3. As long as Russia rejects Western terms for disarmament, the defense forces of allied countries must be reinforced "with the deterrent and retaliatory power of nuclear weapons." This was believed to be a reaffirmation of an American promise to send medium-range missiles to Britain and other key allies in line with pledges already made through the Atlantic pact defense council.

4. Russia's "repudiation" of a 1955 pledge to permit German unification through free elections is "a folly and a danger" as well as its continued suppression of freedom in Eastern Europe.

5. Free world countries must back up their joint defense programs by "co-operative economic action." This reference was vague but noted there should be "a steady and significant increase" in living standards in underdeveloped areas around the globe.

Woman Knifed; Boy, 15, Held

... Victim, 82, In Critical Condition

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

An 82-year-old Lincoln woman was stabbed eight times Friday night at her home and police were holding a 15-year-old boy in connection with the incident.

Officials at Bryan Memorial Hospital said Mrs. C. A. Moore of 2227 So. 34th was in critical condition from seven stab wounds in the back and one in the arm.

Mrs. Moore told police she was attacked by a delivery boy making collections. Police said the boy they questioned told them he intended to rob her after she had paid him for his services. But, police said, the boy took no money.

Said She Turned Her Back

Mrs. Moore told police she paid the delivery boy, laid her purse down and turned her back to the boy. He pulled his hunting knife and stabbed her, police said, seven times in her back and once in her left arm.

According to police the boy lingered at the scene telling her, "I don't know why I did it. Don't tell anybody."

He fled on foot, police said. Mrs. Moore notified police. The boy's parents furnished his description.

Spotted By Detective

Within two hours after the incident, Detective Sergeant Al Delaney spotted a lad near Capitol Ave. and D. Working alone, he persuaded the boy to give himself up which he did without resistance.

The doctor said one of the stabs pierced Mrs. Moore's lung causing bleeding in her chest. She did not lose consciousness throughout the ordeal, he said.

The boy is being held on an open charge at police headquarters.

CONVICTION REVERSED

Mom, 5 Kids Found Dead

ARLINGTON, Minn. (AP)—A migrant farm trucker returned to his small, one room shack Friday and found his wife and five small children dead of asphyxiation.

"I'd just as soon be dead now myself," said 31-year-old Joe Garcia after discovering the bodies of his wife, Rita, 32, and the children, ranging in age from 1 to 12.

Dr. A. F. Dysterheft, Sibley County coroner, said the six died of accidental asphyxiation caused by a two-burner gas plate used to heat the rough 14-by-14 foot cabin.

Garcia, a truck driver for the Big Stone Canning Co. factory in this south central Minnesota community, had taken his truck to Ortonville in the western part of the state Thursday and returned late Friday.

He found his wife face down in her bed. Also in their beds were the five children, Adelina, 12; George, 11; Rosendo, 9; Sylvia, 6; and Joe Jr., 1.

Lienemann pointed to the various opening and closing times observed by the different county offices, and said he believes it would be advantageous to standardize these hours by instituting the 5-day, 40-hour week.

To put such a plan into effect, Lienemann said, would require the approval of the County Board and the complete co-operation of the county office heads, who are in charge of their individual office procedures.

No Moon Orders—White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House Friday labeled as "completely wrong" a published report that President Eisenhower had ordered construction of the first U.S. moon rocket.

The report appeared in a new aviation publication, Missile Week. "The story is completely wrong," said associate White House press secretary Anne Wheaton. "There is not an element in truth in it."

The publication said Eisenhower Thursday "ordered the first United States moon rocket and let it be known to top Pentagon officials that he personally would oversee America's space flight program."

Dr. E. A. Rogers, State Health Department director, reporting "nothing new" Friday on the state Asian flu outbreak, explained the importance of positive tests of the disease verified in Hastings, Lincoln and Omaha.

One or two verified Asian flu tests are sufficient to allow the assumption that others with the same symptoms are suffering from the same disease, he said.

Dr. Rogers called "highly reliable" and "the most rapid method" the testing method now used by the state laboratories. It produces results in 48 hours by use of chick embryos.

Nine In Lincoln

No new positive tests have been made by the state laboratories, he stated.

The count stands at nine positive tests reported in the Lincoln area, including six from Union College students; three verified Hastings tests and several in Omaha.

Dr. Rogers added that tests sent in from Albion several weeks ago failed to show any positive Asian flu verification.

Sputnik Beeping Dies Out

LONDON (AP)—Sputnik has lost its beep.

Scientists tracking the Soviet baby moon said it was still zipping through outer space around the world and right on course. But radio monitors said it no longer sends out its signals. Neither the beep nor the occasional whistle is heard now.

Apparently batteries powering the radio emission had gone dead.

"The Russians said the satellites batteries would last for three weeks, and it is exactly three weeks to the day," said a scientist at the Radio Observatory at Cambridge.

"The signals have lost intensity over the last week and were a hundred times weaker last night, which probably means that the satellite will now be unobserved unless it is done by radar."

"From our measurements it is coming down by about 3 1/2 kilometers (just over 2 miles) a day at its highest point or orbit, which is in the southern hemisphere, but it is more or less the same height over England."

MORE SNOW MAY FALL

An inch of snow covered western Nebraska Friday and more light snow was predicted for that area Saturday night.

The state was assured a hard freeze as early Saturday morning temperatures included 25 at Burwell, Grand Island, Scottsbluff and Chadron, 26 at Sidney, and 27 at Lincoln, Valentine and North Platte.

Some relief from the biting chill was in sight Saturday, but the five-day forecast indicated below normal in the east. Normal in the west and 10 degrees below normal in the east. Normal highs are around 60.

High readings Saturday were to be 35 to 45, compared with Friday highs ranging from 39 at the Lincoln Airport to 32 at North Platte and Sidney.

An inch of snow was reported Friday morning at North Platte, Holdrege, Sidney, Chadron and Scottsbluff. Light snow was also reported as far east as York, where it melted as it fell.

A surprise storm dropped four inches of snow on parts of Wyoming and Colorado Friday, with deeper snows in the mountain regions.

Vic Bans Taking State Autos Home

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Victor Anderson issued a directive late Friday to employees in all state departments under his jurisdiction that state-owned automobiles can no longer be driven to the employees' homes.

A personnel committee, recently appointed upon the recommendation of code department heads and responsible for the revision of rules and regulations governing all state employees in code departments, has just completed a study of the use of state-owned automobiles.

The statute governing the use of state cars prohibits the use of a state-owned vehicle for any personal use whatsoever.

Unauthorized travel is considered travel that could not be approved for reimbursement if a private car were used.

Gov. Anderson reported the committee is making arrangements for suitable parking facilities close to the capitol building and recommends that all code departments with cars that have been driven home by employees in the past, make arrangements to have them parked on the lot whenever they are not being used on official state business.

The committee also recommended the governor continued, that each department make a survey of all cars assigned to that department and wherever possible, assign one car to two or more people, to be used on a pool basis.

Gov. Anderson commended the committee for its work and said he felt sure "this action would effect a saving for the state and would put all departments and employees on an equal basis."

Code departments, over which the governor has jurisdiction, are: Aeronautics, Agriculture and Inspection, Banking, Health, Insurance, Motor Vehicles, Roads, Water Resources, Labor Veterans Affairs, Military, and the Tax Commission.

Of some 570 state-owned automobiles, about 370 are in code departments, the majority of these being in the Department of Roads. Most of these are out over the state.

The governor's office reported that the Board of Control, although not a code department under the governor's direct jurisdiction, also has said it will comply with the ruling.

SPY COULD GET DEATH

Soviet Agent Shows Scant Interest In Decision

NEW YORK (AP)—Russian Col. Rudolf I. Abel was convicted Friday of stealing American military and atomic secrets for Moscow. The maximum sentence is death.

The scrawny, 55-year-old masterspy is the first foreign national ever to stand trial for his life on espionage charges in a civilian American courtroom. He also is the highest ranking Soviet agent ever brought to book here.

As he has throughout his trial in Brooklyn Federal District Court, Abel seemed only mildly interested in the verdict returned by the jury of nine men and three women. They deliberated three hours and 35 minutes.

Later, as he left the court, Abel puffed out his cheeks and exhaled in a gesture that seemed one of relief at the end of the trial.

Praise From Judge

Judge Mortimer Byers, who now holds Abel's life in his hands, scheduled sentencing for Nov. 15. "I would have done the same thing," Byers said as he praised the jury's verdict.

Said Asst. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins, who prosecuted the case for the government:

"It strikes a severe blow at Soviet espionage in this country."

Defense Atty. James B. Donovan, appointed by the court to represent Abel after the Russian government failed to make any move in his defense, said he would withhold a decision on whether to appeal.

Hopes for Deportation

Donovan added he is hopeful that instead of punishing Abel, Byers will decide to send him back to Russia.

Abel, married and the father of a married daughter, gave up his family in devotion to his cause. A veteran espionage agent for the Kremlin, he slipped into this country illegally from Canada in 1948.

For the next nine years Abel posed as a nondescript Brooklyn artist, eventually opening a studio across the street from the courtroom where he went to trial Oct. 3.

During the entire time, Abel's mission behind the mask was to ferret out national defense data for the Kremlin. His operations bordered on fictional fantasy.

Mrs. Kearns, Ex-Fremont Resident, Dies

OMAHA — Mrs. William H. Kearns, 49, of New York City, formerly of Fremont, died Friday in an Omaha hospital.

Funeral services will be held 3 p.m. Sunday at St. James Episcopal Church in Fremont. Father Fred Mueller will officiate and burial will be in Fremont.

The body will lie in state at the Fitch-Cole Mortuary, 3618 Far-noun, in Omaha from Saturday noon until Sunday noon.

Mrs. Kearns died Friday in an Omaha hospital.

The former Carolyn Dodge, she was the wife of the president of Ted Bates & Co., New York advertising firm, and the sister of Mrs. Everett Angle of Lincoln.

Also surviving is her stepmother, Mrs. Charles F. Dodge of Fremont. Mrs. Kearns, a native of Fremont, was the daughter of the late Fremont banker Charles Dodge.

She graduated from Fremont High School and from the University of Nebraska in 1929. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Mrs. Kearns died unexpectedly on her 27th wedding anniversary. She and her husband were entertained by friends Thursday night and she showed no signs of illness.

The Kearns had come to Omaha to attend the wedding of Sally Skutt, 1956 Ak-Sar-Ben queen.

After her marriage, Mrs. Kearns lived for a time in Omaha and Chicago. For the last 15 years the Kearns had been living in New York City.

University Closed

CARBONDALE, Ill. (INS) — Temporary closing of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale because of the high incidence of what is believed to be Asian flu was announced by President D. W. Morris.

The University, which has a student body of 6,500 students, is believed to be the first large school in the country closed because of the sickness.

Sgt. Rhodes Is Confined

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army disclosed Friday night that M-Sgt. Roy Rhodes, who admitted during the Abel spy trial in New York that he sold U.S. military information to the Russians, has been placed in confinement at nearby Ft. Belvoir, Va.

He was put under custody pending a decision on the filing of charges, the Army said.

"The entire transcript of the Abel trial is being reviewed with a view to determining what action should be taken against Rhodes," the Army said in a statement.

Rhodes, 40, a native of Oklahoma, is stationed at Ft. Meyer. He testified that he turned informer for the Russians after a wild Moscow hotel party with two Russian girls. He said he was paid for giving information to Soviet nationals also in 1952.

Anastasia Rubbed Out

Gang Executioner Is Mowed Down

... Meets Fate He Decried For Many

By ARTHUR W. EVERETT
NEW YORK (AP)—Albert (Boom Boom) Anastasia, the cold-blooded executioner of the old Murder, Inc., mob was assassinated today in a barber's chair in a midtown hotel. It was the same remorseless, gangland fate he had decreed for scores of others.

"He was taking over the mob," said a ranking police official, who asked that his name not be used. This spokesman said two masked gunmen who shot Anastasia and then escaped—apparently by subway—were professionals, hired to thwart Anastasia's lust for greater underworld power.

The source said Anastasia headed a younger element seeking to self in one of the shop's 11 chairs. The customary white apron had been draped over his short, squat figure and he had just begun to relax to the ministrations of barber Joseph Bocchini.

The gunmen moved wordlessly to flank Anastasia on either side. Then, still without a word, they opened fire. Bullets ripped into Anastasia's head, his hip and his left hand.

Anastasia reeled dying from the chair and sprawled onto the floor. But the killers gave him no respite even then.

"They kept pumping bullets at him," a police official said.

Finally, satisfied their mission was accomplished, the gunmen raced from the hotel at Seventh Ave. and West 55th St. In the corridor outside the barber shop, one of them dropped a .38 caliber Colt revolver in his haste. It contained five spent shells and a single live bullet.

Most Spectacular Since '28
It was probably the most spectacular gangland killing in Manhattan since gambler Arnold Rothstein was shot to death Nov. 6, 1928, by an assassin who never was found. And it was grimly ironic that Rothstein was slain in the very same hotel, then known as the Park Central.

Anastasia, 53, had beaten five murder rap. He was one of the few men who ever came back alive from the Sing Sing prison death house. Convicted of murder in 1921 and sentenced to the electric chair, he won a new trial on a technicality. But when the state was ready to retry him, it was discovered that key witnesses had been murdered in the interval. The charge was dropped.

Police disclosed that 11 persons witnessed the barber shop murder. The witnesses included five barbers, two customers, a manicurist and three shoe shine men, police said.

Police assigned a 24-hour guard to each witness. Italian-born and steeped in the bloodthirsty tradition of the dread secret society, the Mafia, Anastasia entered this country as a boy in 1917 by jumping a ship. Three of his younger brothers got in the same way. Anastasia gained citizenship as a GI in World War II.

One Hospitalized After 3-Car Crash
A three vehicle crash at 19th and Q Friday afternoon sent one man to a hospital.

Edwin Albert, 62, of 2736 Apple was admitted to a Lincoln hospital with cuts and bruises on his face, head and arm suffered when the car he was driving was in collision with one driven by Francis G. Moritz, 32, of 2003 G.

Albert was thrown from his car by the impact, centered broadside on the right side of his car. The car continued through the intersection and over the west curb of 19th until it was stopped by a truck parked in a driveway, according to police reports.

Sputnik Evades NWU Watchers
"Sputnik" slipped past Nebraska Wesleyan University watchers Friday evening because the sky was not dark enough at the time of the Soviet satellite's quick trip over Nebraska.

Prof. Carroll Moore said the moonwatchers will take up their vigil again Saturday evening at about 6 p.m., hoping that the slightly later schedule for the satellite will allow for enough darkness to use their telescopes.

At present, Prof. Moore said, the rocket and the satellite are traveling around the earth about 45 minutes apart, or, in other words, they are now on opposite sides of the world.

'Generals' Face 'Firing Squad'

UNITED FUND AT $527,776; GENERALS GET 'WHIPPED'

The Lincoln Community Chest and Red Cross campaign reached 89 per cent of the $590,581 goal Friday, with $527,776 reported for a total of $527,776.

Competition among "generals" of the four employe divisions ended with a "court martial," conviction and "execution"—with whipped cream guns—at the noon report luncheon.

Gene Eaton and Harold Osborn, "generals" who had the highest point totals for the week, administered the whipped cream for the losers, Lester Rau and Fred Herrington.

Giving the invocation at the luncheon was the Rev. Thomas Dick of First-Plymouth Congregational Church.

Reports on the employe divisions, women's division and Division A, listing chairmen, amount for the day, total to date and per cent of goal attained, and names of "colonels" and firms that reached their goals:

Business and professional, Eaton, $5,556, $63,915, 97 per cent.
Industrial and automobile, Osborn, $2,753, $69,557, 88 per cent.
Public departments, Herrington, $6,949, $67,232, 95 per cent.

Women's division, Mrs. J. Kenneth Snowden, $20, $15,702, 91 per cent.
Division A, Phil Assenmacher, $11,705, $294,610.

BING'S BRIDE DELAYED 'YES' TILL THIS WEEK

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (INS)—Crooner Bing Crosby grinned like a schoolboy on his first big date Friday when he described how he courted his new bride in the whirlwind fashion of modern youth.

The "Old Groaner," who at 53 is the world's most famous honey-mooner, said the new Mrs. Crosby, 23-year-old actress Kathy Grant, agreed only last Wednesday to become his bride.

The pair slipped into a Catholic church in Las Vegas, Nev., Thursday for the wedding ceremony.

After a leisurely wedding breakfast at a Las Vegas resort hotel, the honeymooners planned to Palm Springs, about an hour's flight away, and a hasty, four-day honeymoon at Crosby's $125,000 desert mansion.

Crosby said it was not until last Wednesday, when Kathy finally said "Yes," that he began to make wedding plans.

He said they didn't even have time to buy a "fancy" wedding ring. They settled upon a simple, plain gold band.

Plague Kills Texas Girl, 4

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—A 4-year-old Wichita Falls girl died of bubonic plague last month after returning from a vacation near Raymond, Colo. Dr. Donald E. Fletcher, pathologist at Wichita Falls General Hospital said Friday.

He said Laura Bryans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bryans Jr., became ill Sept. 2 and was treated at home for a "fever." She was admitted to the hospital Sept. 9 and died Sept. 11.

He said tests confirmed she had two types of bubonic plague—septicemic, infected blood stream contracted from flea-carrying rodents, and pneumonic, spread by nose droplets, blood or nose spray.

No Danger

Dr. Fletcher said there was no danger of an epidemic in Wichita Falls because other cases would have developed within 10 days after her death. He said the girl was isolated at the hospital and members of her family and hospital personnel had been under constant observation.

Director Roy L. Cleere of the Colorado State Health Dept. said there was no cause for alarm in that state because the case may have developed in an isolated area of Colorado, closed since the end of the tourist season.

A National Institution of Health official said in Washington bubonic plague is rare, although isolated cases occur from time to time.

Mid-State Fate Before Voters Next Tuesday

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—The fate of the Mid-State Reclamation District will be put before voters in an election Tuesday.

The district, embracing parts of Hall, Buffalo and Merrick counties, was created as the result of a 1948 election.

However, construction work has not started and a law provides for an election by Nov. 1 on continuance of the district.

In the last Legislature, a move to hold off the vote for one year failed.

Mid-State consists of 560,000 acres, 430,000 of them in crops. About 200,000 are pump-irrigated.

22 Reservoirs

The Mid-State plan is to store Platte River water in 22 small reservoirs to irrigate the 230,000 acres of non-irrigated crop lands.

Federal assistance would finance irrigation and flood-control facilities. A private loan of about 18 million dollars would finance power facilities. The debt would be repaid within 50 years from power and water sale revenues.

During the fight in the Legislature to postpone the vote opponents argue that the original estimate of the project's cost was only 12 million dollars and that it had ballooned since.

The opponents said taxpayers who have been supporting the district were promised the right to vote on the issue this year.

Big Push

MALVERN, Ark. (AP)—J. E. Frost used his automobile to push O. F. Borlund's stalled car. These consequences followed:

1. Borlund's auto struck a utility pole and then a parked auto belonging to Lloyd D. Hughes.

2. The pole snapped and fell across the parked car of Charles C. Nichols.

3. Hughes' automobile rammed into one belonging to Dr. John W. Cole.

4. Charged electric lines fell across Borlund's automobile.

5. Electric and telephone service was disrupted. No one was injured.

Winnie Geib Dies

Winnie Geib, 72, of Valparaiso died Friday in Lincoln.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Etna Geib.

Free Antelope Feed

The Lincoln Elks Lodge 80 is having a free antelope feed with all the trimmings for its members beginning at 11 a.m. Saturday in the club room. At 9:00 p.m. a Halloween Masquerade Dance is being held.

SCOTLAND YARD NABS 'BRIBED' POLICE CHIEF

BRIGHTON, England (AP)—Scotland Yard detectives arrested the police chief of this popular south coast resort Friday and charged him with conspiring to defeat "the course of public justice" by taking bribes.

The arrest of Chief Constable Charles Ridge, 57, was an unprecedented action in British police history. It came at the height of an investigation into alleged corruption in Brighton's 230-man police force.

Ike To Speak

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will speak informally Nov. 8 at the FBI's national training academy graduation exercises.

Announcing this, the White House said the President's brief remarks will be at 11 a.m. EST, at the exercises here.

The academy trains local police officers in FBI investigative methods.

Spanish Release American Plane On Bail And Pilot

LA CORUNA, Spain (AP)—Spanish maritime authorities Friday released an American plane on bail and its pilot, William Wyatt of Dallas, Tex., said he will sail Saturday for England in the British destroyer Coruna.

The plane was released on payment of 50,000 pesetas ($1,000) pending court decision on a demand for 40,000 pesetas indemnity plus salvage rights of 50 per cent of the plane's value.

Wyatt made a forced landing in the Atlantic 40 miles from here Oct. 19 on a solo flight from Galveston, Tex., to Rome in an effort to set a world distance record for light planes. Wyatt was rescued and his plane towed to port by a Spanish fishing vessel.

The fishermen presented the claim for indemnity for loss of fishing and salvage rights.

Intervention by the U.S. Consulate in Vigo secured the plane's release.

A PUBLIC SERVICE NOTICE FROM
JOHN VAN BLOOM
representing Mutual of Omaha
Ideally, your physician should be called and his instructions followed. However, in an epidemic situation, he may not be able to give you prompt and undivided attention. In that event, these are the things to remember:
1. Keep away from others.
2. Follow the common sense treatment you'd use for ordinary "flu". In other words, go to bed and remain there until your temperature has become normal and you feel well enough to get up and about.
3. Drink lots of fruit juices and liquids—but avoid alcoholic beverages.
4. Don't overeat—stick to bland foods like toast, chicken, tea, ice cream, simple fruits and vegetables, milk, etc.
5. Notify your physician if any unusual symptoms develop.
Can you afford to give up 8-10 days pay?
Doctors say that Asian Flu takes its victims away from their jobs for 8-10 days, barring further complications.

ALBERT ANASTASIA
...barbar shop assassination
snatch Crime Syndicate leadership from the faltering grip of racketeer Frank Costello, himself the target of an attempted assassination last May 2.
Job Well Done
"They knew their job well," declared the official of the two killers who murdered Anastasia. He added that police believe the pair now are well on their way elsewhere, spirited away by the group who hired their guns to erase Anastasia.
The killers wasted neither words nor motions in dispatching Anastasia. One of them carelessly dropped his gun in the getaway. The other gun was discarded in a nearby subway trash basket. But police feared neither weapon would prove traceable.
"It was obviously a professional job," a police official said. "They didn't want to have any blundering, as they did in the Costello shooting."
Costello was only nicked when an assassin with a bad aim creased his skull with a bullet outside his apartment building.
At Least 10 Shots
Police believe at least 10 shots were fired at Anastasia and that the coup de grace was administered in traditional gangland style—a bullet fired point blank into the back of the head.
Anastasia's slayers were far more brazen than the thug who cloaked himself in midnight darkness to peg a shot at Costello.
The two gunmen walked into the Park Sheraton Hotel barber shop in broad daylight, leaving a busy street to cut through a crowded hotel corridor. They escaped by the same route.
Anastasia had just seated him-

Experts Say Only Order Needed To Reach Moon

'Far Side' Scientists Talk Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force scientists have put out a rocket feeler more than 4,000 miles into space and Friday they said they see no technological reason why they can't touch the moon—if someone orders it done.

Two Air Force colonels, who worked on Project Far Side in the Pacific ocean, told newsmen some of the dramatic story of how, after four frustrations and one doubtful attempt, the scientists finally succeeded on their last try in sending a rocket up from a balloon to the farthest-out point reached by a man-made object.

Colonels Eugene C. Lavier and William H. Bowers still lacked technical reports on the series of shots which began Sept. 25 at Eniwetok atoll and ended with success on Oct. 22. They were guarded in their answers, until data can be analyzed.

But Lavier, under prodding questions, finally agreed there were adequate reasons to believe the Oct. 22 rocket passed the hoped-for 4,000 mile mark "by a few hundred miles."

Then came the inevitable question: If you can do this, can you reach the moon with a research rocket, saying within a year?

Second Phase?

"Technically, I don't see why it couldn't be done," said Lavier to the first part of the question.

As to whether it could be done within a year, his answer was that the Far Side scientists weren't working on the moon project.

Since the Far Side project is completed, is a second phase to come, involving an even more far reaching effort?

That is not a decision for the Far Side project people but for higher authorities, like the Secretary of the Air Force, Lavier replied.

A reporter noted that Russia apparently is getting ready for an attempt to rocket to the moon. Has the Air Force been told to stay away from the moon?

'Escape'

Somebody recalled that scientists have the theory that if a speed of seven miles per second is attained, an object could be pushed out beyond the gravitational pull of the earth, an "escape" from gravity. The speed of the rocket in the Oct. 22 shot was estimated at about five miles per second.

Lavier said it is possible to achieve a seven miles per second speed. But the balloon platform vehicles used in Far Side were not designated for that type of rocket launching. For he said he thought some other design or system would be used for a higher speed rocket.

Would an object fired out vertically to 4,000 miles come back to earth?

Oh, yes, the colonel said, adding that it probably burns up on re-entering the earth's atmosphere.

A-27th To 33rd May Open Next Week—Mayor

Mayor Bennett Martin said Friday that A street between 27th and 33rd may be opened for traffic next weekend.

The contractor is hopeful of Nov. 1 completion, depending upon the weather during the final stages of the work.

This section of A has been closed for a $100,000 bridge and revamping of the A and new Southeast Diagonal intersection east of 27th.

The diagonal from A to South will also be opened for traffic.

The 27th and D to A and Normal section of the $911,000 diagonal will be completed next summer.

Ralph Schneckloth Funeral Rites Held

Funeral services were held Thursday for Ralph Ferdinand Schneckloth, 31, of 3940 No. 10th at Hodgman-Splains and at Immanuel Lutheran Church, the Rev. William J. Roesler officiating.

Mr. Schneckloth, who died Monday, was an employee of Beatrice Foods Co. and a resident of Lincoln since 1941. Previously he had lived at Wausa and Osmond, Neb., and was a native of Minden, Ia.

Survivors include his wife, Mabel; one son, Warren; one daughter, Yvonne; his father, Theodore Schneckloth of Osmond; three brothers, Elmer and Irwin of Osmond, and Lloyd of Wausa; and three sisters, Mrs. Zeatta Olson of Council Bluffs, Ia., Mrs. Velda Hiett of Crescent, Ia., and Mrs. Norma Vogt of Kearney.

King Saud, 55, May Take A New Wife, 19

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Aristocratic circles in Lebanon buzzed Friday night with reports that Saudi Arabia's 55-year-old King Saud may marry a 19-year-old Lebanese schoolgirl. They met when King Saud was here last week on a state visit.

Confirmation was lacking but a schoolmate and the girl's home indicated the reports are true.

She is Ferial Solh, niece of Lebanon's Premier Sami Solh.

The immensely wealthy and patriarchal Saud, whose kingdom rides an ocean of American-produced oil, can have as many as four wives at a time by the law of the Koran. Details of his present marital status are not known here.

The parents of the girl could not be reached for confirmation but a member of the household, who refused to be identified, told a reporter on the telephone: "Nothing formal has yet been done, but the story makes sense."

Other sources said romancing is still in the preliminary stage and would take time to materialize.

Ferial is a student at a French school in Beirut. A classmate said she had left school for a week and had told her girl friends she would be married to King Saud. The classmate said Ferial told her she is studying books on royal protocol.

King Saud's younger brother, Prince Talal, in 1955 married Ferial's cousin Muna Solh, daughter of the late Lebanese Premier Riad Solh.

King Saud was reported early this year at the time of his visit to the United States to have four wives, 40 sons, an unstated number of daughters, and between 50 and 100 concubines.

Calvary EUB Construction Begins Soon

Construction of the new Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church at 11th and Garfield is scheduled to begin next week with completion set for May, 1959.

Preliminary ground clearing has been completed, according to Dr. E. S. Wegner, building committee chairman.

The new church building, including a sanctuary, educational unit, fellowship hall, and chapel, will cost approximately $225,000 including equipment and additional ground.

Basic construction costs of $147,777 were listed on a building permit filed with the city.

The building will be contemporary style architecture encompassing 20,400 square feet.

The present church building will be used until the new church is completed.

Man Given Year In Pen For Part In Vaccine Theft

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A man who took part in the theft of a case of Asian flu vaccine Friday was sentenced to a year and a day in federal prison.

"Anyone who would steal such a vaccine at a time like this when there is such a terrible need for it deserves no consideration from this court in spite of a lack of a prior record," U.S. District Judge Richard M. Duncan told James Glayzer, 24-year-old Kansas City potato chip salesman.

Glayzer pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing 400 vials of the vaccine valued at $1,600 from an interstate shipment.

Paul R. Sly, assistant U. S. District attorney, said Glayzer had implicated Charles C. Moore, an independent pharmaceutical salesman, who is under arrest in San Antonio, Tex.

Federal agents said the two sold 150 vials of the 400 in the shipment to an unnamed physician for $1,000.

Merriman Calves Tabbed Champion

CHICAGO (AP)—The lot of 20 Angus steer calves shown by Mr. and Mrs. Redmond W. Sears of Merriman, Neb., won grand champion honors at the 13th annual Feeder Cattle Show at the International Amphitheatre.

Jess Hadley, North Platte, showed the championship carloads of Angus yearling heifers and heifer calves.

Baby Found Alive; Parents Had Died 4 Days Earlier

DETROIT (AP)—A 6-month-old baby was found alive Friday night in a room where her young parents had lain dead for four days.

Hospital officials said the child was in critical condition from malnutrition and dehydration.

The bodies of the parents, identified by police as James Brown, 22, and his 17-year-old wife, Clara, were found lying on the bedroom floor of their two-room apartment in a rooming house in downtown Detroit.

Dr. F. X. Krynicki, assistant medical examiner, tentatively blamed their deaths on food poisoning.

The baby wore only a diaper. Dr. Austin Z. Howard, night superintendent at Detroit Receiving Hospital, estimated the child had had no food or water since Monday night.

COLLEGE VIEW PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER TO COLORADO POST

The Rev. Garrett Carpenter, pastor of College View Presbyterian Church at 4619 Prescott since June, 1954, has resigned to accept the position of associate pastor at the First Presbyterian Church in Ft. Collins, Colo.

He and his wife and son, Philip, will leave Lincoln Oct. 29, and he will assume his new duties in Ft. Collins on Nov. 1.

Rev. Carpenter

Rev. Mr. Carpenter's pastorate here, a new $16,000 building addition—providing educational facilities and a fellowship hall—was completed and paid for by the congregation. The original building was also redecorated and renovated.

Sertomans To Beatrice

The Lincoln Sertomans are traveling by bus to Beatrice Saturday to attend the charter meeting of the Beatrice Sertoma Club. Speaking at the meeting will be Rod Andrews, Nebraska district governor, and Elton Vann, International president.

Time Changes

By The Associated Press

Millions of northeasterners and residents of a few other areas will go back on standard time Sunday after six months of daylight saving time.

They will do so by turning their clocks back from 2 a.m. to 1 a.m.—if they are up that late.

In many other parts of the country where daylight time prevailed this summer, the change was made back to standard time on Sept. 29.

And in a few places, including 15 cities of central Kentucky, daylight time is a year-around affair.

A Loss Regained

Christian Dior, famed French designer and recognized pace-setter for style throughout the world, was not well enough known personally to people for them to experience any deep sense of loss at his death. There was a sadness with his passing, of course, just as there is with the end of any human life but it was not the same as losing a close friend or member of the family.

What Dior's death might have meant was the loss of something that has become a sort of tradition for Americans. It was a popular thing for American males to lament Dior's annual changes in women's styles.

For the head of the house, it meant new bills as the little lady rushed to the stores as they became stocked with the latest Dior creations. Oh, the women pooh-poohed the idea that they were slaves to the French creator but suits, dresses, coats, shoes and other apparel, outdated by Dior's decisions, were fast to "wear out" and need replacing.

Naturally, if something new had to be purchased, it might just as well conform to the new fashion trends. We men knew the score, all right, but there was really little we wanted to do about it despite all our bluster.

The hassle over fashion, the despair over bills and the fantasy of milady's headgear has become a sort of escape. It has been a welcome diversion from other real problems of life and did give women a moral boost that always seemed to be worth the chips.

Now, word has come from the House of Dior in Paris that the organization will be continued. It will never be exactly the same, true, but it is likely to carry on the Dior tradition of radical and rapid changes in the world of feminine fashion.

Thus, there is still—hope, we guess—that the nebulous, subconscious satisfaction Americans found in the Dior dynasty will not be lost.

Chain Reaction Quenched

An Associated Press survey has concluded that Nebraska's bumper crop year is a mixed blessing.

It viewed the overflowing bins of corn and sorghum and scanned the vista of lush forage and remarked that there was not enough livestock in the state to eat its way out of such a banquet.

Two years of drought tied in with a heavy sell-off both of cattle and hogs have reduced the state's livestock inventories. The problem of converting grain into dollars via meat is further complicated by the breeder's desire to use this period of abundant feed to expand herds. The result is that the price of feeders is on the rise. The prospect of farm profit is being reduced by that much.

There is truth in this. But there is also a brighter side.

It is not a sound sequitur that heavy livestock inventories would automatically convert the farmer's effort into maximum dollar. A surplus of market cattle, plus a surplus of feed could add a stage in the chain reaction of low priced surpluses. The memory of the oversupply both of cattle and hogs a few seasons ago serves as a good refresher. An inventory of feeder stock adjusted to market demand for meat speaks for stable prices and tends to confine the problem of an abundance of grain to the grain itself.

Nebraska has a better backdrop in respect to grain than it has in livestock. Both compliance and non-compliance corn as well as sorghum are under price support. The return from the harvest is both calculable and protected.

It is one of the seldom mentioned virtues of a price support program that it tends to act as a quencher of a chain reaction of price collapses.

Treating With Symptoms

Southeast Nebraska's impressive force of school teachers are heading home again after attending their part of the general annual state teachers convention.

Their meetings differ from the commercial type in that they more resemble a policeman's holiday. They study just a little harder than usual and turn for a few days from being teacher to being learner.

Pills To Protocol

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A severe blow to amateur protocol experts has been administered in Washington. A man who makes his living at knowing what to say and do at the right time has been given the gate for his own inconsiderate actions. The man tossed out on his ear is Victor Purse, a State Department protocol officer who accompanied Queen Elizabeth on her recent visit to America.

Purse and his superior, Wiley T. Buchanan Jr. never got along personally. It seems as though there were unpleasant words between the two every time they met. For protocol experts that doesn't seem very cricket but it was so just the same. Purse came up with the straw that broke the back of Mr. Buchanan when the queen's social expert returned to Washington from New York aboard the President's plane, the Columbine. As luck would have it, Buchanan was at the airport, coincidentally, when Purse stepped off the Columbine, caught in the act of such affront, Purse found upon return to his office that his boss had ordered him placed somewhere other than in protocol work. Alas, fired from protocol for lack of protocol! We have no idea if it was proper or protocol for Purse to ride home on the Columbine, although we can't see what harm it did, but the story sure makes us glad we're not in business in Washington—particularly in the protocol business. If a career protocolist (if there is such a word) can't make it, then we wouldn't stand a chance. O.K., so we wouldn't, anyway, but let us have our fun.

This isn't what is known as poetic justice but at least a couple of words rhyme. A Washington tax driver was commenting to a passenger on the departure of Queen Elizabeth and the arrival of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. "Then sent us the queen to give us a thrill," he said, "now comes Macmillan to bring us the bill." Well, it would be a sad day if that were a true expression of the feelings of a majority of Americans. Rather, it is hoped it represents the fact that the people of the U.S. can still maintain a sense of humor even in the face of serious world conditions.

Americans must really be going to the dogs. Two criticisms against them this week kind of seem to add up together. Speaking in Lincoln at the Nebraska State Education Association, Humorist Ogden Nash affirmed that there are no new creative humor writers coming up in the ranks. Most of the humor today, he said, is coming from writers over 50. And in another part of the world, Tokyo, two U.S. scientists reported that Americans are wasting a lot of money on vitamin pills and that 90 per cent of the time the pills are unnecessary. In both cases, there is a basis for assuming we are moving too fast these days. We don't have time for humor, and the weighty affairs that keep pushing us along lead us into the world of pills and patent medicines. Maybe the time is ripe for a campaign for more laughs, steak, bread and milk.

Some people talk of the necessity for halting the movement of farm people to the city. A good idea of what such a move has to buck can be obtained from a report at the recent meeting of the Nebraska Poultry Improvement Association in Lincoln. A marketing expert reported that the state is slipping as a major poultry producer. If this is to be corrected, he warned, there must be fewer small poultry raisers and more mass production methods in order to sew up growing markets. This is just one area in which the emphasis on the farm is going from the small independent producer to the sprawling, mass production system. Every time such a transformation takes place, that many more "little" farmers must seek their living elsewhere.

U.S. Takes Ribbing Over Russ Satellite

WASHINGTON — Though President Eisenhower says he's optimistic regarding the science race between the USA and the USSR, his administration's monitoring service has picked up foreign radio broadcasts which show we are taking a terrific ribbing all over the world.

Here is a short skit presented over the Voice Of The Arabs from Cairo, ridiculing the United States over Sputnik.

The program began with the sound of hammering in the back ground, the scene being the workshop where "Imperialist The Bully" is building an artificial moon to compete with the Russians. An American official asks:

"I want to know whether you have completed my moon or not?"

"Not yet," replies Imperialist The Bully. "There is a slight modification needed."

"You have made us look ridiculous to the world," declares the official. "Not only to the world, but also to our press."

"Oh, no, no, no," answers Imperialist The Bully. "They are terribly wrong if they think so. Do they not realize that this American moon which we are making will be a very big one?"

"I have called all representatives of the world press; they are now outside waiting to see for themselves the wonderful artificial moon. The moon must rise today. They are waiting for me. Do not put me in a critical position."

"I will ask the workers in the lab to hurry," promises Imperialist The Bully.

He then goes to the lab, where a plumber, a porter, and a motorcycle mechanic are building the American moon, which is to be made of cheese covered with phosphorescent material.

"By the way, Imperialist," says one worker, "I have brought with me the phosphorescent material."

Imperialist: "What phosphorescent material? The moon is not a match."

"Are you not ignorant! The moon should be painted with thin material after being molded so that it will be illuminated while flying. The moon must rise today . . . tomorrow the press will be carrying big headlines: 'The Biggest American Artificial Moon!'"

Imperialist: "Come on, boys, let us start it by hand. (follows a sound of "beep, beep")

"Here is the American moon! The American moon calling! This is the best moon that ever appeared on the market!"

Note—Col. Nasser recently stated that he wanted friendlier relations with the United States, told American diplomats he was worried over Russian penetration into Syria.

How sour the Pentagon was toward the idea of space travel even as late as last summer is indicated by a secret order from the Air Force forbidding any frivolous talk on this subject.

This column has now obtained a copy of this order, which was inspired by Secretary of Defense Wilson's attitude that research in space travel was a waste of time and money. Dated July 29, 1957, here is a copy of the Air Force order, as teletyped to all commanders:

"Recent news stories which have described certain Air Force projects as space flight projects have resulted in unfavorable reaction at Air Force and Department of Defense levels. It is suggested that any speeches or public releases planned by you or your staff avoid mention or discussion of space, space technology, space vehicles.

"No statements can be made which might in any way cause the national news media to describe valid Air Force projects as efforts to 'fly to the moon.'"

"If in doubt as to the propriety of a speech or release, submit it to this headquarters for review."

Rogers Carries On Dewey Influence

WASHINGTON — The replacement of Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. by Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers does not signal important changes in the broad field of Justice Department policy or operations.

Rogers grew up politically in the broad shadow of Thomas E. Dewey. He has worked as a lawyer for both parties and gave satisfaction to senators of such diverse talents, character and personalities as the plodding and diffuse Homer Ferguson of Michigan and the astute and humane Clyde Hoey of North Carolina.

The new attorney general, in short, is a legal version of the managerial species rather than an aggressive individualist or entrepreneur.

His intimacy with Vice-President Richard M. Nixon is, however, a political fact of major significance. What Rogers does in such areas as civil rights can be expected to reflect the Nixon political strategy rather than immediate, close White House supervision.

That intimacy will also bring him inevitably into collision with the Democratic Congress. Democrats fear that they will have to beat Nixon in 1960, and they will watch so close an associate and friend as Rogers with a wary eye. Brownell's name, of course, is attached to developments detested by Democrats, including the treasonable doubt he cast on former President Truman's action in the matter of the late Harry Dexter White and the controversial Title III of the new civil rights bill. To remove Brownell from the line of fire is a gain for President Eisenhower in his congressional relations.

But within the inner circle of Democratic party managers, Rogers is known as Brownell's good right hand and has not been excused from blame. Actually, in the tense civil rights debate last summer Rogers had charge of the Justice Department maneuvering, for Brownell was in London at the American Bar Association convention.

Even without the Nixon connection, Rogers has probably already dissipated the fund of Democratic friendships created in his days with the late Senator Hoey.

Now he moves out front in the area of high policy. It is a supreme testing field.

Washington Eyes On November 7

WASHINGTON—The tranquilizing approach to the Russian moon is still the official line, with speech-makers trying to belittle the Soviet achievement as a stunt.

But the tranquilizers administered by spokesmen for the administration to the public will hardly suffice if the worst fears of some insiders are confirmed. The date ringed on many calendars here in Washington is November 7, the anniversary of the Red revolution. Repeated hints have come out of Moscow that on that 50th anniversary the Soviets will advertise to the world another and even more spectacular proof of their scientific-technological ability.

Some of the hints suggest that Russia will send up a much larger Sputnik with a direct military usefulness of a high order. This larger Sputnik would contain newly perfected photographic devices capable of recording the entire earth's surface every 72 or 96 hours.

What this would mean for the ultimate weapon — the intercontinental ballistic missile — is evident. One of the greatest unsolved problems in aiming the ICBM—unsolved presumably for the Soviet Union as well as for the United States — is that accuracy depends upon exact knowledge of the earth's perimeter, and over large areas that knowledge is simply nonexistent.

ake, for example, the major Soviet objective of destroying the Strategic Air Command bases in this country. An ICBM with a nuclear warhead causes total damage in a radius of about seven miles. Trying to pinpoint an air base as a target with a missile traveling 5,000 miles means that an extremely small margin of error, measured in fractions of a degree in the aiming, will cause a miss.

Now suppose Moscow announces on November 7 that the new and bigger Sputnik is photographing the earth's surface and transmitting the photographs back to Moscow. A few days later Pravda prints what it purports to be a photograph of the SAC base near Omaha as taken by Sputnik II.

While an earth satellite sufficiently large to carry this extraordinary photographic equipment is conceivable, American experts say no one has yet solved how to guide the satellite back to the point at which it must discharge the pictures it has stored electronically. This, at any rate, is the assumption, since American scientists and technicians have not worked this one out.

But what those setting the tone of America's reaction seem to fail to realize is that in the current psychological warfare being waged so aggressively by the Russians, an announcement that they had this capability would be just as effective whether they actually had it or not. A faked photograph of the big SAC base near Omaha would cause as much public consternation as the real thing.

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Jesus, The Calm That Fills My Breast

Jesus, the calm that fills my breast,
No other heart than thine can give;
This peace unstirred, this joy of rest,
None but thy loved ones can receive.

My weary soul has found a charm
That turns to blessedness my woe;
Within the shelter of thine arm,
I rest secure from storm and foe.

In desert wastes I feel no dread,
Fearless I walk the trackless sea;
I care not where my way is led,
Since all my life is life with thee.

O Christ, through changeless years my Guide,
My Comforter in sorrow's night,
My Friend—when friendless—still abide,
My Lord, my Counselor, my Light.

My time, my powers, I give to thee;
My inmost soul 'tis thine to move;
I wait for thy eternity,
I wait, in peace, in praise, in love.

By HORACE B. POWELL

One of the most distinguished of the Methodist hymnists was the Rev. Frank Mason North, a minister who was born just at the middle of the nineteenth century and who spent most of his ministry in the city—New York. He will always be remembered for two songs, a home missions hymn entitled "Where Cross The Crowded Ways of Life" and the hymn, "Jesus, The Calm That Fills My Breast," which is listed above.

Dr. North was graduated from Wesleyan University and began his theological studies that same year. For nearly two decades he held important pastorates and service posts for his denomination and then, in 1872, he accepted the secretaryship of the New York Church Extension and Missionary Society.

During his New York ministry and later when he was serving as a city missions leader, the pastor-poet took a deep interest in the needs, problems, and heartaches of ordinary people in a big city. It was this interest which led him to write his popular home missions hymn. It is still in wide use today.

In our day of world crisis, too, his second hymn with its message of Christian trust has a new meaning for men and women who are seeking comfort and inner strength in spiritual things. This hymn was written in 1884 and made its bow a year later in the Christian Advocate magazine. In 1893 it was published in the Plymouth Hymnal and today it has won a place in many church song books.

Common Law

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Common law is the foundation on which our legal system rests. Common law is the common sense rulings of courts which becomes precedents (or laws) for the future decisions. These decisions were based on what was the custom in the community and had prevailed over a long period of time. The common law goes back to King Alfred's Dooms which is based on the Commandments of the Bible. The preamble to the Dooms was: "The Law that God spoke to Moses and Christ said He came not to break or forbid but to keep."

After the preamble came a verbatim list of the commandments (laws).

Blackstone said later: "Any law not based on divine precept is no law at all."

The righteousness of the common law is (and has been) supplanted by statutory (legislation) laws and decisions by judges who are not thoroughly conversant with the divine precepts. Here are a few: homicide, kidnapping, actionable torts in many instances, land use and titles, statute of limitations and debts, creation, issue and stabilization of the money, taxes, and to this can be added many, many more, such as "Thou shalt not, commit adultery."

Trouble At Home

Beatrice, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Russia has the bombs and know-how to go from Moscow to the sea, taking the British, too, while your Uncle Samuel is beset with jealousy, indecision and engaged in a wild race to capture votes in the South, aided and abetted by the Supreme Court and trouble-makers behind the Little Rock situation.

Uncle Sam would have a hard time saving his own skin, let alone helping Europe. A commentator likened Ike's sending troops to Little Rock to Lincoln one hundred years ago—a shame and disgrace to compare present difficulties to that noble and wonderful man.

According To Daniel

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Curtis, Neb.

I have just read the letter on Bible teaching in the October 22 Star. This was written by Jacob C. Ferguson Sr., and I agree with him.

I suggest one chapter in this book which would make people appreciate the wonderful intelligence found in the Bible. This is the seventh chapter of Daniel which forecasts world history which has lately come to pass.

Daniel saw the emblems of four great nations which were then coming and now have come. The first was a lion with eagle wings on its back. He saw that the wings would be removed and given a human heart. This was plainly England and America. The identity of the bear and leopard is also clear, but I want to mention the fourth. This was Hitler's Germany.

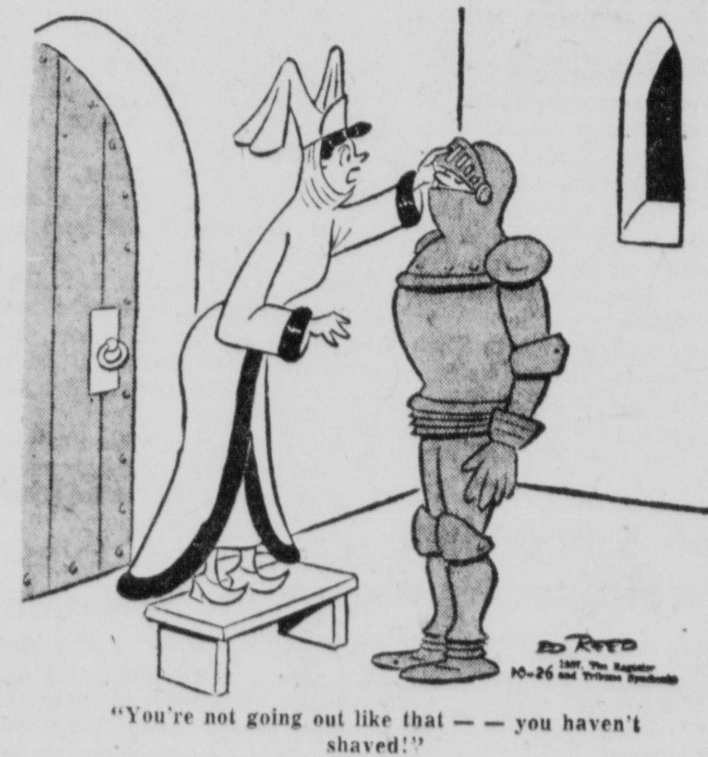

Hitler conquered 10 countries and destroyed three. He told his army at the start that they would change the world for a thousand years. Daniel saw that this beast would be destroyed and the land divided, never to unite again. And he showed that after the time of the fourth beast, the coming of our Lord was near.

The above forecast was not the work of any human mind. It should be read.

Weeks And BAC Forecast Decline In Business Activity, Then Recovery

...No Fears Of A Recession

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks and his Business Advisory Council (BAC) Friday forecast a decline of perhaps 1 per cent in business activity in early 1958, with a recovery in the second half of the year.

They reported no fears of a recession and no reason now to ease the tight money policy.

Weeks obtained the consensus of about 100 corporation heads and government officials on the business outlook in a closed session at the Homestead Hotel here. Afterwards he told reporters:

"I think the prospects for a tax reduction bill next year are not what they might have been a few months ago."

Weeks explained that the prospective "emphasis on missile development" might increase spending in that field, while a slowdown in the rise of personal and corporation income might check the hitherto steady rise in federal tax collections. He implied that Soviet success in launching an earth satellite might prompt Congress to vote funds for a major U.S. effort to catch up.

Mild Nature

Weeks emphasized the very mild nature of the prospective dip in national production, saying:

"We have been moving up steadily and rapidly since 1954. Obviously we must have a pause for breath. I think that's what we are going through now."

"I think this leveling off, this pause for breath, is a healthy thing for the economy."

His advisory council, made up of the heads of many of the country's biggest corporations, explored the outlook in a three-hour session. It heard reports from a dozen of its own members in key industries, from its staff of professional economists, and from government officials including chairman Raymond J. Saulnier of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

When the session broke up the head of the council's economic committee, T. V. Hauser, board chairman of Sears Roebuck Co., gave reporters a prepared statement on the findings. It said in part:

"The Business Advisory Council sees over-all business activity continuing at a high level plateau but gradually dropping from the present record breaking high slowly until sometime in 1958."

No Basis

"It sees no basis for any long continued decline in the American dynamic economy."

"The tight money policy is causing some cancellations and postponements of capital expenditures and restraint on inventories and consumer credit."

"A leveling off period which may be a check on the recent inflationary trend is desirable in the long run."

"Heavy spending for plant and equipment has increased industrial capacity to the point where some surplus exists, and this type of construction will slowly trend to lower levels."

The downward forces are largely offset by prospective expansion of plant investments by public utilities, state and local construction of schools, hospitals and highways, as well as new plants and equipment demanded by improving industrial technology. But the memorandum said that the stimulus to production which will start the economy growing again "must come from increased consumption"—that is, from stepped-up buying demand by ultimate consumers.

To Free Japs

MOSCOW (Saturday) (INS)—The Soviet news agency Tass reported that the government will release all Japanese fishermen sentenced for illegal fishing in Soviet territorial waters.

Tass said the action was ordered by the presidium of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament).

The amnesty decree was issued in connection with the celebration of the 40th anniversary of the October revolution.

Hundreds At Nuckolls County 85th Anniversary Celebration

By BILL HINEL
Beatrice Bureau

NELSON, Neb. — Nuckolls County residents Friday celebrated the 85th anniversary of the county's founding with a full afternoon and evening of activities.

Hundreds of persons braved the cold winds to line the streets or take part in the opening afternoon parade and programs at the new auditorium.

The Nelson American Legion post color guard led off the parade. Superior and Nelsons bands, the Fairfield Saddle Club and dozens of gaily costumed marchers, floats, surreys and cars followed in line.

History Recounted
At the auditorium Dr. W. D. Aeschbacher of Lincoln, superintendent of the Nebraska State Historical Society, recounted the county's history, especially the events surrounding the Indian massacre of 1864. The Indian uprisings, he said, involved the territory all the way from Denver to Gage County, Nebraska.

The historian also spoke of the Oregon Trail which passed the northeast corner of Nuckolls County, and he related the county's founding in 1872.

Harry Follmer, 79, of Oak was awarded a prize for being the county's oldest continuous resident. He is a retired real estate man.

Mrs. Pearl Clem and Mrs. Ivan Garring, both of Nelson, Ray J. Lowery of Oak, James Nelson of Bostwick and Mrs. Lawson Wehrmann of Nelson won awards for having the most authentic costumes.

Some 500 persons filled the auditorium for the program of musical and dancing numbers, a cake-walk sponsored by the Nelson Legion Auxiliary and other entertainment.

In honor of the occasion business places were bannered and windows contained displays of antiques and costumes of bygone days. Chairman W. E. Garrison expressed satisfaction with the turnout for the days' activities, but blamed the sudden change of weather for not having an even larger crowd.

CALAIS, France (AP)—Stone-throwing strikers tried to block the Golden Arrow—Europe's most luxurious train—by piling railroad ties on the track.

Strikers tried the same thing with the London-Calais-Basle Express, which leaves at almost the same time.

—GOP Meet—

All Nebraska Congressmen To Be Here

Nebraska's entire congressional delegation will be in Lincoln Nov. 1 for the meeting of the state's GOP leaders and party workers. U.S. Senators Roman Hruska and Carl Curtis, and Congressmen Phil Weaver, Glenn Cunningham, Robert Harrison and A. L. Miller, will join upwards of 200 members of the Republican party for day-long meetings at the Cornhusker Hotel.

GOP State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr. of Grand Island, said the Nov. 1 meeting would see the completion of organization for the party's Agriculture Committee and newly-formed Honor Club for past party stalwarts.

The meeting also will mark the introduction of Marvin Stromer, recently appointed executive secretary to the Republican State Central Committee.

State Gets $3,342 From Surplus Sale

A sale of surplus state property held Friday brought $3,342.17 in the state's coffers, according to a report from Tom Coffey, state purchasing agent.

A total of 121 items, ranging from old typewriters, chairs, desk lamps, storage files, a jeweler's lathe and watchmaker's punch, to one lone used brief case, were included in the sale.

The 48 typewriters sold brought an average price of about $35 to $40.

Coffey said he received bids from 55 persons.

The proceeds from the sales will be returned to the departments which owned the items to be used for the purchase of new equipment needed.

3 4-H Groups Recognized By Kiwanis Club

The Lincoln Kiwanis Club recognized three Lancaster County 4-H clubs for outstanding work throughout the past year, at the regular meeting Friday.

Receiving the Wayne C. Farmer Memorial Trophy as the top over-all club, both in agriculture and home economics activities, was the Nifty Northeast Club.

The Sunshine Dairy 4-H Club won the trophy in the agriculture division. Nifty Northeast won the home economics activities.

Also recognized was the Willing Hands 4-H Club. This group came within one point of winning the agricultural division.

The three clubs were selected from the 110 4-H clubs in the county with a total membership of 1,030.

The merit awards are based on the number of points compiled by the clubs throughout the year through demonstrations, ribbons won at the county fair and other activities.

D. E. Hutchinson is leader of the Nifty Northeast Club, while Elton Lux is leader of the Sunshine Dairy 4-H Club.

Both men have been club leaders for several years. Members of their clubs have attended several national meetings in Chicago.

Little Chores

LONDON (AP)—Princess Alexandra, 20-year-old daughter of the Duchess of Kent, is to learn how to cope with such everyday little chores as changing a baby's diaper.

Royal court officials said slim, good looking Alexandra will start Monday on a short course in child welfare at a London Children's Hospital.

Meet Star Carrier Steven Welch

Steven Welch of 2209 Lincoln Ave., York, carries the morning Lincoln Star Route 21 in his home town. He started on his route during June and has almost doubled the number of customers.

Part of his increase came during a contest for securing new subscribers in which he won some fine prizes.

Twelve years old and in the seventh grade, Steven is fourth lieutenant in the Junior High Band. He plays the saxophone and piano.

While he is interested in all sporting activities, his favorites are swimming and fishing. During his vacation last summer he went salmon fishing in Oregon.

A Composer
His hobbies include collecting horses and phonograph records. Steven hopes to become a music composer.

He is putting his route profits into a savings account.

Steven's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Welch, are very happy that he has the opportunity to have his own business where he can learn to meet the public and become acquainted with business problems at an early age.

Any young man interested in having a morning Lincoln Star route in his home town may receive full information by writing to the State Carrier Dept., The Lincoln Star, Lincoln 1, Neb.

Quake Recorded

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—University of California recorded a sharp earthquake, probably in the Kurile Islands. It appeared to center about 4,000 miles northwest of Berkeley.

LT&T TO REPLACE PHONE WIRES WITH MICROWAVE RADIO

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. announced that, starting next year, microwave radio instead of wire will be used to send telephone, teletypewriter and telegraph messages between Lincoln, Wahoo and David City.

The system will handle any type of communication that can be sent over wires and is almost "storm proof" so that service interruptions from sleet, rain, wind and lightning will be practically eliminated, the company says.

Merle M. Hale, vice president of the company, said the familiar pole lines will remain in use for rural and other local service.

At Mid-Year

The system will go into service when the Wahoo exchange is converted to dial operation about the middle of next year. The David City exchange will be converted to dial service later in the year.

Subscribers at these exchanges also will be able to dial long distance calls direct from their telephones to about half the telephones in the state. Direct dialing already is provided at Beatrice and its outlying exchanges.

120 Circuits

The new $178,000 microwave radio system will be capable of carrying 120 message circuits.

The company has microwave radio connections at Hastings and Lincoln for the reception of network television for local stations. These connect with the transcontinental microwave radio system.

A 150-foot antenna tower is being constructed near Brainard, a 120-foot tower adjacent to the new telephone building at David City and a 70-foot tower similarly located at Wahoo.

Another antenna beamed toward the Brainard tower will be mounted on the present Lincoln tower at 15th and M Streets.

Radio signals received at the Brainard tower will be amplified and relayed to the terminating exchange.

Strike Started

TOKYO (AP)—About 50,000 merchant seamen at 60 Japanese ports started a 48-hour strike for higher wages.

The Japan Seamen's Union ordered the work stoppage after ship-owners and the union failed to reach agreement. The union demanded a minimum 3,200 yen ($8.80) monthly raise while the ship-owners offered 2,400 yen ($6.60) to 3,000 yen ($8.30). The seamen's average monthly salary is 27,953 yen ($77.64).

Nebraskans Top Bond Purchasers

OMAHA (AP)—Nebraskans are top purchasers of U.S. Savings bonds. Robert W. Reese of Washington, Savings Bond director of information, says so.

In 16½ years of the Series E and H bonds Nebraskans have purchased $1,332,000,000 of the bonds, Reese said.

On a per capita basis, that is nearly twice as much as Colorado and half again as much as Iowa, Missouri and Oklahoma, Reese said.

U.S. Asks Sale Of DuPont's GM Stock To Holders Of Firm's Common Shares

CHICAGO (AP) — The government Friday recommended that the Du Pont holdings of 64 million shares of General Motors Corp. stock be distributed among owners of Du Pont common stock.

The proposal was made by the anti-trust division of the Justice Department. It would allow ten years for an orderly transfer.

Pointing out that Du Pont has 60 days after the government filed its proposal, or until Dec. 24, to file an alternative, a spokesman said in Wilmington Friday night that it would be "premature and improper" for Du Pont to comment at this time.

Illegal Control

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled in June that Du Pont illegally controls General Motors through its ownership of 23 per cent of GM's stock — 63 million shares worth approximately 2½ billion dollars.

The Supreme Court sent the case back to Judge Walter J. La Buy in Chicago — where the anti-trust action against E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. began — to determine how much of GM stock should be disposed of by the Du Pont interests.

The government suggested to Judge La Buy that: Du Pont holdings of GM stock be transferred to trustees.

Groups Barred

The trustees arrange to distribute the stock to owners of Du Pont common stock. Three groups would be barred from such distributions — the Christiana Securities Corp. and the Delaware Realty and Investment Co., both Du Pont holding companies — and stockholders of the Delaware Realty Co.

Of the 63 million GM shares, 60 per cent is held by Du Pont common stockholders and 40 per cent by Christiana, Delaware Realty and Delaware Realty stockholders.

Delaware was set up by members of the Dr. Pont family and controls Christiana, which in turn is a holding company controlling Du Pont.

153,000 Holders

There are 153,000 holders of Du Pont common stock.

The suggested sale is the outgrowth of the civil anti-trust suit the government filed against Du Pont in Chicago, contending Du Pont's huge holdings gave it control of GM and provided it with means to restrain trade and stifle competition for sales of its products to the big automotive concern.

Judge La Buy dismissed the suit Dec. 3, 1954, and the government carried the case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Still Spreading

GENEVA (AP) — The World Health Organization (WHO) reported flu is still spreading with some deadly effects.

"An increase in mortality ascribed to influenza and to pneumonia was reported in the towns of the United States and of England and Wales," it said in a weekly summary.

—Redding Manslaughter Case—

Guilty Verdict Changed; Re-Trial Awaits Study

County Attorney Elmer Scheele said Friday afternoon that he would not decide whether to retry Earl Redding of Lincoln until he has studied a State Supreme Court opinion handed down Friday morning which reversed Redding's Lancaster County manslaughter conviction.

Scheele indicated there is a possibility that the case may not be retried. Redding has had two jury trials on the manslaughter charge, which grew out of the death of a 76-year-old Lincoln State Hospital patient. Redding, an attendant at the hospital at the time of the incident, was convicted last February after a previous trial had resulted in a hung jury.

The State Supreme Court held that the testimony of a physician relating the patient's account of how he received his injuries, was hearsay evidence and "clearly prejudicial."

Judgment Reversed

On those grounds, the Lancaster County Court judgment was reversed and the case was sent back for a new trial. Redding had been sentenced to two years in the Men's Reformatory on the charge, but had appealed and was free on bond.

Although it had not been raised in the appeal, another defect in the case was discovered by the Supreme Court: a law which figured in the prosecution has no force and effect because it carries no penalty clause.

The law in question is one which bans mistreatment of mental patients.

Redding had been charged under a manslaughter law which describes the crime as killing another person without malice, either upon a sudden quarrel or unintentionally, "while the slayer is in the commission of an unlawful act."

Would Not Qualify

If the law against mistreatment of mental patients is null and void, mistreatment of a patient would not qualify as the "unlawful act" referred to, the Court said.

Redding, 60, was charged with striking and fatally injuring Charles Copperstone after Copperstone had resisted being put to bed.

Referring to the hearsay evidence contained in the physician's testimony, the Court said this testimony "could well have tipped the scales by which the jury was weighing the evidence in favor of the state."

Referring to the defect in the patient mistreatment law, the Court said a penalty "is a necessary part of a statutory offense. One may not be convicted for a purported criminal offense where the statute provides no penalty for its violation."

Friday Evening Bride

MRS. EDWARD C. SHAW

With arrangements of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums forming the chancel appointments, the marriage of Miss Marilyn Woodside, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. Woodside, to Edward C. Shaw of Louisville, Ky., son of Mrs. Virginia Kaufman, also of Louisville, took place on Friday evening, Oct. 25 at the First Methodist Church, Dr. Carl M. Davidson solemnized the 8 o'clock service, and the wedding music was played by Miss Margaret McGregor. Miss McGregor also accompanied the vocal soloists, Miss Kay Furman and Robert McMeen.

Velveteen in the shade of forest green was chosen for the bride's costume of the attendants including Miss Jane Kramer, the maid of honor; bridesmaids, Miss Lois Wolph of Kansas City, Miss Mary Ann Duffy; and bridesmatrons, Mrs. Richard Schaaf, Mrs. Bernie Barr and Mrs. Donald Sittner of Omaha. The bracelet-sleeved bodices, suggesting the Empire mode were designed with Sabrina necklines that extended into a back decollete, and were smoothly narrowed to the waists beneath which the sheath skirts were of daytime length.

Arthur M. Wade served Mr. Shaw as best man, and seating the guests were Joe Price, Jerry Robinson, Ed Chaikoff, George Evers and Ed Beltz.

A gown of imported white peau de soie was chosen by the bride for her wedding. The fitted bodice, with its brief, shirred sleeves, was deeply bibbed with re-embroidered Alencon lace which also contoured the shell

Luncheon Held

The members of the Society of the Hall in the Grove met for their annual fall luncheon in the east dining room of the YWCA. The president of the group, Mrs. A. S. Lefferdink, opened the program with a welcoming address which was followed by a memorial program in honor of members who had passed away during the last year.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Mary Lou Sherk who spoke on, "Life in Turkey," and showed slides taken during her two year residence in that country.

TALK OF THE TOWN

And Finally—Lincoln

THE WEEK-END is sparking with a number of very bright moments—The Gay Nighters are having a dinner dance—the Trend Club also will dine and dance on Saturday evening—The Holiday Club is having one of its infrequent parties—and there are other things we can't mention at the moment.

WE can chatter a bit about Trend Club, however—The group, as you may remember, is composed of residents in the East-ridge area, and it is just beginning its second season.

At the party—a masquerade ball at Hotel Cornhusker—on Saturday evening new member couples will be presented—and they will include Mr. and Mrs. David Baker, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Carothers, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Dye, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. David Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. George Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lingenfelder, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pohlman, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stones, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wise and Mr. and Mrs. William Zeitz.

Four guest couples, including Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wentz, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cusack, Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Neilsen and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kinney, have been invited to the ball.

Officers of the Trend Club this season are Mr. and Mrs. Dale McCracken, president; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bower, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Stockholm, membership chairmen.

The word has reached us that at long last Raymond Gavin will be arriving in Lincoln on Saturday to join Mrs. Gavin and her young son, Terry, who have been the guests of Mr. Gavin's mother, Mrs. Ruth Raymond Gavin.

Mr. Gavin, who has been expected momentarily during the past two weeks, will spend some time in Lincoln before accompanying his family back to their home in Managua, Nicaragua.

HAVE some other guests to mention this morning, too—Someone told us that Mrs. Frank McDermott of Elkins, Pa., formerly of Lincoln, has arrived in Lincoln for a visit with old friends, and that she is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs.

R. A. Bernard.

WHEN Dr. Grace Loveland and her mother, Mrs. George Loveland, entertained at tea last Tuesday afternoon it was to honor their house guest, Mrs. Herman Franson of Boise, Idaho.

Mrs. Franson stopped in Lincoln en route to her home from New Haven, Conn., where she was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Scott and Mr. Scott.

A NAME on the potential guest list is that of Miss Courtney Campbell of Dallas, Tex., who plans to spend the weekend of Nov. 1-3 in Lincoln as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Campbell.

Miss Campbell is a member of the Dallas public school faculty.

HEAR that a very popular guest is soon to leave for her home—Miss Olive Seamark of Banning, Calif., who has been spending the past few weeks as the guest of Mrs. Torrence Moyer, plans to return to Banning within the next few days.

A NEW address in the news this morning is 2355 Calumet Court, the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perry and their three children.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry and their family recently returned to Lincoln following Mr. Perry's tour of duty at Hersey, N.J.

THE Baby Book contains news of the arrival of Charles Allan Davis, Jr., who arrived on Sunday, Oct. 20, in Dallas, Tex. The young man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Davis, and his mother is the former Mary Ann Kellogg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kellogg of Lincoln. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Davis of Denver.

Club Meets

The members of the Cornhusker Republican Women's Club held a coffee and meeting on Friday morning at the First Federal Savings and Loan Building. Mrs. John E. Dean presided and introduced the guest speaker, Marvin E. Stromer, executive secretary of the Nebraska Republican State Central committee, whose topic was "Problems Facing the Republican Party in Nebraska."

Parents Club

Members of Bryan School Parents Club will meet on Monday, Oct. 28, at 1:15 o'clock at Bryan School for a business meeting and program.

Named as new committee chairmen for the group are: Mrs. Arthur Bullock and Mrs. Robert Farmer, room mothers; Mrs. Roland Willis and Mrs. Richard Bourne, program; Mrs. Mary Piazza and Mrs. Kermit Severin, refreshments; and Mrs. Dale Wisbey and Mrs. Don Crozier, publicity.

Once upon a time Miss Ingeborg Hansen resided in Denmark—Then Miss Hansen took to traveling—She went all around the world and at Victoria Falls, South Africa, she met Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Reller of Lincoln who also were making a world tour. That was something like two years ago.

As time went on Miss Hansen found herself a career woman in San Francisco—and now, at long last, she is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reller in Lincoln. The visitor will leave on Sunday to return to what she considers the most fabulous city in the world—San Francisco.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

If present temperatures are any indication the Halloween witches this season will be wearing fur lined car coats and will have checked the anti-freeze in their swept back broomsticks before they go a-haunting this Thursday. And from the looks of our news we venture to say that our witches will not be the only ones out for fun on the coming holiday, for the Park Manor younger set has been making plans.

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 29, Tommy Hayes, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dale Hayes, will be host to a group of friends at a holiday party at his home, and among the merry-makers will be Scott Dwork, John Krieger, Jimmy Kelly, Beau Parsneau, Bobby and Billy Mann, Ronnie Sconyers, Bob Donovan, Danny Foster and Harold Page.

Halloween will again be the theme of the party for which Ellen Hayes will be hostess on Wednesday, Oct. 30. Joining in the fun of the evening will be Judy Dean, Judy Johnston, Doug Dwork, Scott Stewart, Janet Carlson, Sally Novotny, Sid Stewart, Harold Grasmick, Nancy Hall, John Tidball, and Steve Michael.

A birthday celebrant on Sunday, Oct. 27, will be Miss Ann MacDougall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd MacDougall. In honor of her fifth anniversary Ann will entertain 14 neighborhood friends at an afternoon party at her home on Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Curtiss are this morning announcing the birth of their new son who arrived at Bryan Memorial Hospital on Wednesday morning. The young man has a brother, Steven, and two sisters, Nancy and Patricia, and his grandparents are Mrs. Paul W. Curtiss and Mrs. and Mrs. Howard Miller, all of Geneva.

Understand that Capt. and Mrs. Donald Donceel and their children, Terry, Sheri, Kerry, Craig, and Steve, will be bidding Park Manor and Lincoln friends goodbye in the near future since Capt. Donceel has received orders for transfer to London, England.

The family will be leaving the United States in December, but will depart from Lincoln early in November for a month's visit with their families in Oklahoma. They will be the guests of Mrs. Donceel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Roach, in Blair, Okla., and Capt. Donceel's sister, Mrs. S. F. Westbrook, his brother, H. F. Donceel, and their families in Oklahoma City.

In farewell courtesy to Mrs. Donceel, Mrs. Donald E. Pearson and Mrs. Frederick Pierson entertained at a coffee last Friday morning. The informal affair was held at the Pearson home and included among the guests were Mrs. Donald Devers, Mrs. George Maser, Mrs. George Brannon, Mrs. Harold Gaylor, Mrs. Jerald Ranne, Mrs. Byron Blackmore, Mrs. Harold Struempfer, Mrs. John Weaver, Mrs. Gunnar Overgaard and Mrs. John P. Anton.

Mrs. Donceel was hostess to neighborhood friends at a coffee last Monday morning. Twelve guests were invited to the informal party which was held at the Donceel home.

Arriving in Park Manor last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Parsneau of Davenport, Ia., who have been visiting at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. Laurence Parsneau. The couple will be returning home today.

Celebrate Charter Day

The members of Kappa Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, entertained at its 26th annual Charter Day dinner on Wednesday evening, Oct. 23, at the Compass Room. Special guests for the evening were the chapter's nine new pledges, including Mrs. Marcia Bjorklund, Mrs. Laura Lane, Miss Gladys Schalk, Miss Janice Gottula, Miss Irene Karpisek, Miss Nancy Reed, Miss Jackie Loudon, Miss Pat Campbell and Miss Carmen Seuka.

Solved Carpet Cleaning Problem

Research now has the answer to carpet and upholstery cleaning with the new product, Blue Lustre. It is completely safe for finest carpets whether woolen rayon, nylon or cotton.

The nap is left open and fluffy as colors return to their original beauty and lustre. No residue remains to cause rapid resoiling. Clean entire carpet or just spots and traffic paths with Blue Lustre and a long handled brush. One-half gallon of odorless Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9x12 rugs.

English Spoken In America Due To Raleigh-Historian

North Americans speak English rather than Spanish mainly because of Sir Walter Raleigh's influence on Queen Elizabeth I, according to Dr. Alfred Leslie Rowe, English historian and lecturer.

He said Raleigh, "a man of genius," was a favorite of the queen and with the resources she gave him was able to plant the first colony in North America.

Dr. Rowe, who presented three Humanities Lectures at the University of Nebraska this week, will speak next week at Midland College, Hastings College and Omaha University.

Benkelman Well May Become Producer

Lincoln Star Special
BENKELMAN, Neb. — Swab tests at the Miles Jones No. 1 show "very fine possibility" that the oil well near Benkelman will become a commercial producer.
 Tests completed this week tested about 10 3/4 barrels per hour over a 24-hour period, putting the well's initial potential at about 240-plus barrels per day.
 Assembly of equipment is almost complete at the well site, two and one-half miles southeast of Benkelman, and production is expected to get under way by Sunday.
 Both oil company officials and state geologists were cautiously optimistic over the swabbing results, pointing out that all indications were that the well will be a commercial producer, but that no positive statement can be issued until production begins.
 The well is the first in the Benkelman area and one of five deep wells in Dundys County. Tests were taken at the 4,170-4,184 foot level.
 The Miles Jones No. 1 is being drilled by the J. M. Cline Co. of Denver. Officials of the company state that further exploration in the immediate vicinity will be made if the well proves commercially successful.

Dr. L. A. Swanson, Former Hastings Physician, Dies

HASTINGS, Neb. — Word has been received here of the death of Dr. Leonard A. Swanson of Camarillo, Calif., former Hastings physician. Death was attributed to a heart ailment.
 Services were held Friday in Hollywood, Calif.
 A graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, Dr. Swanson established a practice in Hastings in 1924, continuing for 22 years.
 Surviving are his wife, Thelma; a son, Leonard Alan, medical student in Omaha; and a daughter, Betty, who is teaching in California.

Youths May Solve Problem Of Labor Shortage—Hand

OMAHA (U)—The next five years will see industry experiencing the worst labor shortage in peace-time history, a shortage that can be met by looking to youth, Russell Hand of the Nebraska State Employment Service says.
 Hand said "industries should take young people from high schools and colleges for part-time jobs and train them so they are available when they complete their schooling."
 It's cheaper to train young people for jobs than hire experienced help in a competitive market, Hand said.

Grand Islanders May View Rocket

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U) — The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said the Russian satellite rocket will pass over Grand Island, Neb., on a southwest to northeast course at 5:29 p.m. CST Saturday.

Broader Tax Base Advocated For Education As Meets End

By the Associated Press
 A resolution calling for a broader tax base to support education was urged at the closing session of the Nebraska State Education Assn. District 6 convention in Sidney Friday.
 No method of getting that broader tax base was outlined in the resolution.
 A resolution putting the district in favor of more rapid school district reorganization was adopted, but it said any legislation aimed at faster redistricting should also "preserve the right of local control."
 Another resolution disapproved the practice of terminating a teaching contract at a time inconvenient to the school except in emergencies.
Certification Move Backed
 During Friday's closing session of the District 6 teachers at Holdrege the delegates in resolutions recommended that the delegate give serious consideration to organizing the state district and teaching methods are weighted down with sacred cows."
 No. 1 sacred cow, he said, is the tendency for some teachers to put too much emphasis on a pupil's ability to tear a sentence apart and label its parts.
 "You can be a whiz at recognizing a predicate nominative and still be unable to write a decent sentence," Dr. Hook said.

Nebraska News

went on record as supporting continued efforts to increase certification until the minimum of four years of college is attained.
 Another resolution gave the district's support to the initiative movement to provide a state vote on a sales tax for relief of real estate at the local level. The district also urged continued support of efforts to reorganize all school districts into administrative units to provide an accredited educational program from the kindergarten through high school.
 At Norfolk, the behavior problems of normal children came in for discussion by Dr. Oliver Byrd of Stanford University.
 Dr. Byrd told the District 3 group he believed these problems are due to failures to satisfy emotional needs of the youngsters.
8 Emotional Needs
 He listed eight emotional needs—affection, security, acceptance as an individual, self respect, achievement, recognition, independence, authority.
 English teachers would find they can do a better job if they would get rid of some outworn teaching ideas, a University of Illinois professor said at the District 2 teachers convention in Omaha.
 Dr. J. N. Hook declared "our

O'Neill Man's Leases To Indians 'Null, Void'

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals has affirmed a decision by District Judge George T. Mickelson against a Nebraska man who has extensive ranch holdings in South Dakota. The appellate court ruled 56 recorded deeds and leases to Bennett County Indian trust lands held by L. D. Putnam, O'Neill, Neb., are null and void.

Joshua Brown, 74, Former Nebraska Legislator, Dies

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—Joshua Brown, 74, of Brule, a former Nebraska legislator, died in Ogallala Friday. He had been hospitalized Thursday after suffering a heart attack.

Brown, a native of Aledo, Ill., came to Nebraska as a child in 1888 and to Keith County in 1917. He was in the lumber business in Chappell for a time and then fed cattle and operated an irrigated farm in Keith County, retiring to Brule in 1946. He served the 39th legislative district in the 1951 and 1953 sessions of the Unicameral.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Bracken Memorial Chapel in Ogallala.

Brown is survived by his widow, the former Jennie Peterson, three sons, two daughters and a sister.

The sons are Kenneth of Lexington, Phillip of Brule; and Gerald of Denver. His daughters are Mrs. Doris Martens, Julesburg, Colo.; and Mrs. La Vonne Nowak, Akron, O. The brothers are Cyrus and Gus of Chappell and Ben of Newport News, Va., and his sister, Mrs. Vernice La Selle, Chappell.

George Dickson, Retired Benedict Farmer, Is Dead

Lincoln Star Special

BENEDICT, Neb. — Funeral services for George H. Dickson, 66, retired Benedict farmer, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Metz Chapel in York. Death was due to a self-inflicted gunshot wound, according to county authorities.

Mr. Dickson's body was found in the basement of his home by his wife shortly after the tragedy. Authorities said he had been in failing health and was hospitalized twice in the past month.

Mr. Dickson was born and spent his entire lifetime on the same farm.

Surviving are his wife, Hazel; three sons, Lowell of Casson, Minn., Lyle of Bradshaw and Robert of Stromsburg; two sisters and two brothers.

Nebraska News

Act of 1934. The defendants questioned whether the lands in question are within the Pine Ridge Reservation and held in trust by the government. The appellate court said:

Land Held In Trust
"Obvious purpose of the Wheeler-Howard Act was to protect the Indian wards of the government from being denuded of such lands remaining to them."

The court said the land is held in trust by the government for the sole use and benefit of the Indians and is still under control of Congress.

It was the third losing round Putnam and Ward had with the government over Indian trust land in the past 18 months.

In addition to losing both the original case and the appeal, they were fined $300 apiece in June, 1956, for inducing an Indian to convey a deed to government trust land.

Schuyler Cafe Hit By Blaze

SCHUYLER, Neb. (INS)—Faulty wiring was believed to have caused the fire which damaged the Arrow Inn at Schuyler Friday.

The cafe also served as the town's bus depot.

Ed Kroeger, the owner, estimated damage at about $10,000 and said part of the loss was covered by insurance.

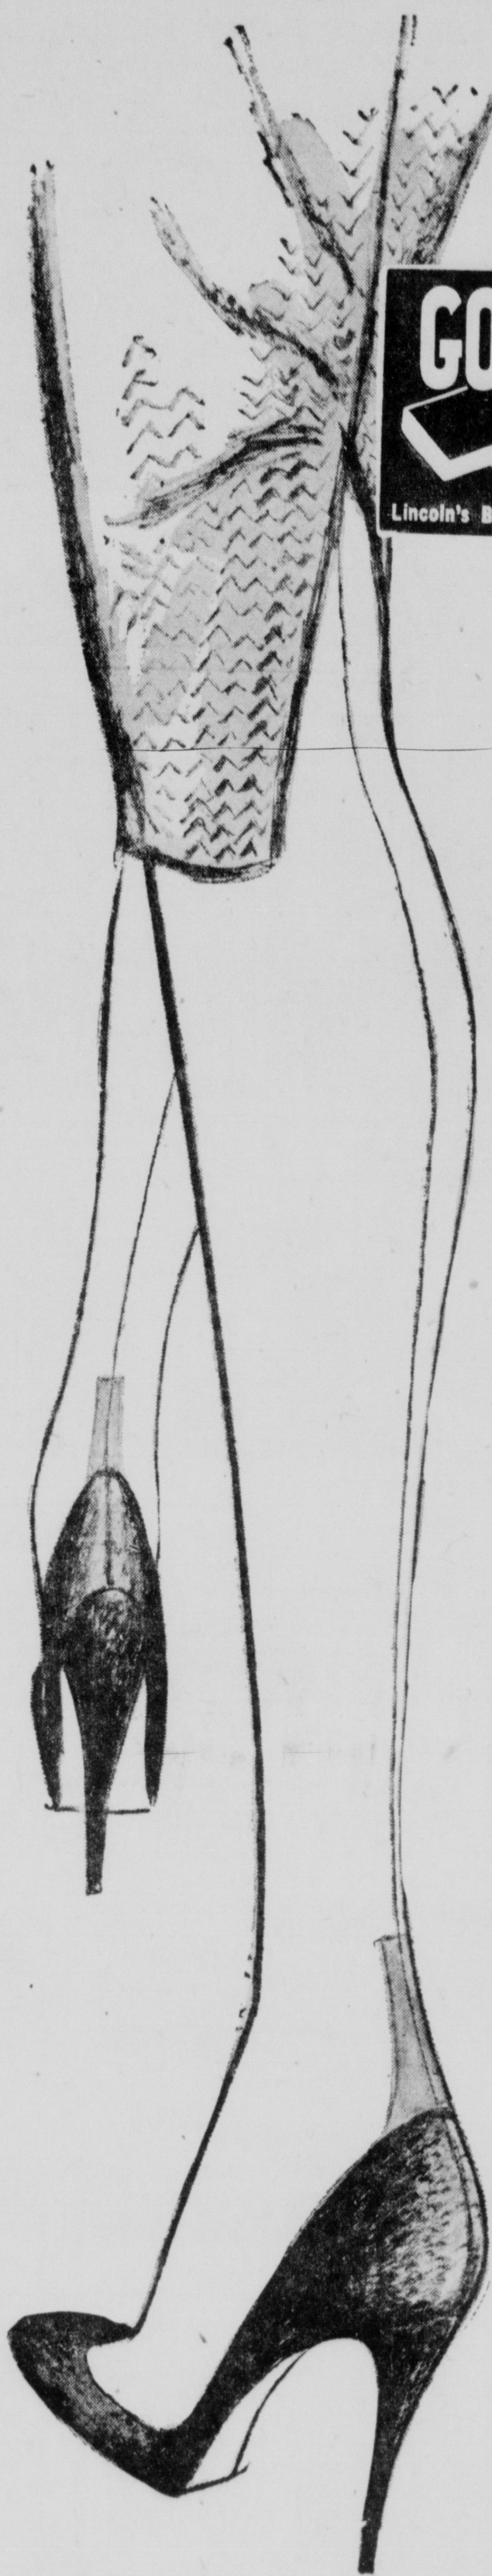

The fire was discovered by a passing truck driver.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Buas' Boer

There are times in international gimmickry when hostile intentions are wider than mountain blueberries. If we follow their advice we'll wind up in the driver's seat with the mules' heads toward the wagon.

That's why nobody believed the mad naperhanger when he switched from the Machiavellian to the Hitlerian. Once again the works are on edge like a card index.

Scrapping our atomized bomb-bomb would be like waiting for simple Simon to bring home a fish. We string along with Eddie Roosevelt when he says Russia is loaded like St. Louis dice.

Ellie siphoned the borsch with Nikky Khrushchev when she went around the world on 80 dais. Ellie will speak at the drop of a hat and she wears a loose one.

We never could understand why Shickel-gruber showed Lindy the works. But at the time we wrote, "If Lindy is telling the truth we owe him a debt of gratitude for warn-

Remarks By Aide Bring Pitt Apology

... From Athletic Director

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pitt Athletic Director Tom Hamilton said Friday he "personally regretted" any reflections cast upon the Army and Oklahoma football teams as the result of remarks by a Panther end coach that the two squads employed holding tactics.

At two football luncheons early in the week Assistant Coach Ernie Heffeler said in off-hand remarks that he and other Panther coaches noted in movies of Pitt's games with Army and Oklahoma what they thought was holding.

Heffeler's remarks and similar comments attributed to Head Coach Johnny Michelosen were published locally and elsewhere.

Hamilton, in a statement, said: "There has been too much said already as an aftermath of an off-the-cuff remark by one of our coaches concerning the Army game, but it should be made clear that any implied criticism did not represent the feeling of the University of Pittsburgh family."

"Pitt lost to a well-coached Army team . . . One that outplayed us, and well deserved its decisive victory . . ."

"Having coached against Earl Blaik over the years . . . I have the highest regard for him on and off the field. I feel exactly the same toward my old shipmate, Bud Wilkinson (Oklahoma coach), and personally regret any reflections conjured up on the basis of an ill-conceived remark by a normally good sportsman, Ernie Heffeler, who did not witness the game."

Point Per Minute In JC Runaway

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — Scoring in the Parsons-Coffeyville junior college football game was on virtually a point a second basis for a while.

In rapid fire order: Jim Depel, Coffeyville end scooped a loose ball and ran 23 yards to score. On the ensuing kickoff, fullback Carl Williams of Parsons raced 92 yards to score.

On the kickoff after Williams run, halfback Otha Fields of Coffeyville ran 85 yards to a touchdown.

Williams' run produced Parsons' only touchdown. Coffeyville won 35-7.

Ike To Watch Little Gridders

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Army's first 150-pound football challenge Navy's Eastern supremacy today in a battle of gridiron lightweighters to be viewed by President Eisenhower and an expected crowd of more than 10,000.

It will be the President's first time to see an Army or Navy athletic contest since he became chief executive.

The little fellows, who can't weigh over 154 pounds under the regulations, play a wide open game that sometimes makes varsity football look dull. Many would have been on the heavier teams except for size.

Redlegs May Enter TV Picture In New York

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies, on the verge of closing a deal for the television of 78 games into New York next season, may have to compete with another National League club for the attention of the metropolitan TV viewers.

The Associated Press learned Friday that the Cincinnati Redlegs, have been contacted by a New York television station for the purchase of piping its home games into the vast territory vacated by both the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants.

Gabe Paul, general manager of the Redlegs, acknowledged he had been approached several weeks ago but said no definite proposal was made. He asked that the television station not be identified because, as he put it, the conversation reached no further than a preliminary stage.

"Yes, we were contacted," Paul admitted, "but nothing definite was proposed. I had lunch with the people, while I was in New York but the whole thing is so indefinite that I haven't even spoken to our board of directors about it."

"Nothing has happened since as far as I know," he added, "but we're interested. If they've got anything in mind, we're willing to listen."

If the deal between the Phillies and station WOR-TV goes through, as expected, the club will televise a majority of its home games and some of its road games into New York for a reported $600,000 fee.

President Bob Carpenter of the Phillies and Gordon Gray, executive vice president of the station, held their second conference in two days, but were unavailable for questioning.

Despite the secrecy, it was believed that the two parties were in accord and awaited only the approval of other National League clubs and the New York Yankees before making the formal announcement.

Approval from all clubs concerned has not yet been given. One of the reasons for this is that the official 1958 National League schedule has not yet been drawn up. A special schedule committee met in Chicago last Monday but failed to iron out a number of complications arising from the franchise shifts of the Dodgers and Giants to Los Angeles and San Francisco, respectively.

The Yankees, it was learned, plan to televise a number of road games back home, in addition to their 77 games played at Yankee Stadium. Since nearly all of the Phillies' home games, with the exception of those on Sundays and holidays, are played under the lights, Carpenter expects no conflict.

The Phillies have had a very limited television schedule in Philadelphia during the past few years. Generally, only a few home games and road games, usually the first games of doubleheaders, have been televised. The Redlegs, in recent years, have televised 22 of their 77 home games and 30 of their road games in Cincinnati.

Second Whooper Group Reported

A second authentic report of whooping crane sightings in Nebraska was announced Friday by Mel Steen, State Game Commission director.

Steen said Ralph Moffert of Ainsworth and other bureau of reclamation employees saw two whoopers six miles west of Meadville on the Niobrara River. The almost extinct birds were observed on a sandbar and also in flight.

The first whoopers to be seen in Nebraska on their annual fall migration southward were spotted last week on the Platte River between Lisco and Oshkosh. Three birds were in this party.

PCL Checks With Spokane Leaders

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — The president of the Pacific Coast League asked local baseball leaders Friday to check around town to see whether Spokane would be interested in a PCL franchise next year.

Curt Haggerty, former president of the community-owned Spokane Indians in the Class B Northwest League, said he would start contacting businessmen here immediately.

Leslie O'Connor, the PCL president, relayed his request through Dewey Soriano, business manager of the Seattle Rainiers. Soriano said PCL officials feel Spokane is one of the most likely cities for a franchise in the realignment necessitated by the western transfer of the Giants and Dodgers.

Spokane, a city of some 180,000 with a metropolitan area of about 250,000, dropped out of the Northwest League this year because of financial trouble and lack of interest.

Third Straight

NEW ORLEANS, (AP) — Clifford Ann Creed, 18, won the Louisiana Women's State golf title Friday for the third straight year.

The Opelousas girl, who won the women's Tam O'Shanter, "World" and Southern Amateur championships earlier this year, closed her match for the fourth straight day on the 13th to beat Mrs. A. T. Higgins Jr., of New Orleans 6 and 5.

Sooners 4 Touchdown Favorite To Beat Buffs In Big 8 Battle

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

A look at current football statistics might lead to the belief that Colorado's team, long a difficult rival for Oklahoma to handle, might stop the Sooners' 44-game winning streak today. But don't count on it.

People who observe football professionally know there's more to the game than figures show, and they've established Oklahoma as the nation's No. 1 college team and as favorite to win by about four touchdowns.

This is one of about a dozen big games on this mid-season Saturday which involve leading contenders for major conference titles and the cash and glory that goes with post-season bowl games. Even though Colorado has come within eight points of Oklahoma in three of their last four meetings, some of the others could turn out to be closer and more exciting than the 1957 Sooners-Buffalo clash.

Colorado is listed as the nation's leading team in rushing and third in total offense. Halfback Bob Stransky also is No. 1 in individual rushing with an imposing 635-yard total. Oklahoma, usually the offense leader, is down in 10th place and holds the same rating in total defense.

Colorado has attained this rating while piling up 146 points against five opponents and yielding 93. Most of the Buffs' opponents appear weaker than the four which Oklahoma has outscored 134-21. The one common rival, Kansas, edged Colorado 35-34 but took a 47-6 beating from Oklahoma last week with the Sooners' second unit doing most of the damage.

The inevitable conclusion is that if Colorado should win, it would be an upset to obscure all those that happened last week.

Texas A&M, Iowa, Duke, Auburn, Mississippi and Notre Dame, all of which so far have escaped the upset scourge and trail Oklahoma in the weekly Associated Press poll ratings, figure prominently in today's big games. Michigan State, which enjoyed the No. 1 ranking briefly before being knocked off by Purdue, takes on one of the leading upset creators, Illinois.

Once more influenza and injuries have taken a big toll and about 18 minor games have been cancelled because of flu. The major colleges haven't been seriously affected.

The Texas Aggies, shooting for the Southwest Conference title and the Cotton Bowl, takes on twice-beaten but still troublesome Baylor. Duke can just about clinch the Atlantic Coast Conference championship and the Orange Bowl bid if it beats North Carolina State, and Mississippi, the Southeastern Conference leader, tackles upset-victim Arkansas from the Southwest.

Iowa, now the only undefeated member of the Big Ten, has a comparatively easy assignment against four-time loser Northwestern, but other Big Ten contenders have some rugged assignments. Minnesota and Michigan bump heads in a game which likely will mean elimination of the loser from the title race. The same situation prevails in the Ohio State-Wisconsin and Michigan State-Illinois games.

Notre Dame, refreshed by a week off after beating Army, tackles the big Pitt team which lost to Army last Saturday. That victory gave the Cadets the No. 9 rating, and they're not risking it seriously by going south to play Virginia.

With Army away, the East's top game brings together tied but unbeaten Syracuse and twice-beaten Penn State. Syracuse has to win this to remain a contender against Army for the unofficial Eastern championship.

Surprising Louisiana State, ranked 10th, plays Florida at Gainesville. After five night games, the Tigers may find daylight a bit strange.

Other top games on the national program include:

EAST — Princeton-Cornell, Harvard-Dartmouth, Penn-Navy, Yale-Colgate, Boston University-Holy Cross.

SOUTH — Tulane-Georgia Tech, Kentucky-Georgia, Alabama-Mississippi State, Maryland-Tennessee, Wake Forest-North Carolina, West Virginia-William and Mary, VMI-George Washington, Florida State-Virginia Tech.

MIDWEST — Missouri-Nebraska, Iowa State-Kansas State, Indiana-Villanova, Purdue-Miami (Ohio), Marquette-Texas Christian, Detroit-Boston College, Tulsa-Air Force.

SOUTHWEST — Houston-Auburn, Texas-Rice, West Texas-Hardin-Simmons, Arizona-Texas Tech.

FAR WEST — Utah-Wyoming, Colorado State-Utah State, Montana-New Mexico, Brigham Young-Denver, Oregon-California, Stanford-UCLA, Washington-Oregon State, Southern California-Washington State.

Pioneer Golf Board Named

The names of the board members of the Pioneer Golf Association were released Friday. Scotty Harris and Paul Gillespie are the two-year members elected.

Max Pennington was elected to the one-year position. Linn Crain and Harvey Kaufman are holdover board members.

McCook's Moyer Dist. 5 Prexy

HOLDREGE (AP) — District 5 athletic coaches and directors Friday named Galen Moyer, McCook track coach to be their president for the coming year.

Eugene Turner of Axtell is vice-president; Bob Hanson of Culbertson, secretary; and Merle Bauer, Holdrege, treasurer.

Holdrege Substitute Game Also Canceled

HOLDREGE (AP) — The Holdrege homecoming football game scheduled Friday night with Imperial was called off due to flu and general weather conditions.

Earlier, the Cozad at Holdrege game, scheduled as the homecoming fare, was postponed until Nov. 15 due to flu in Cozad. The game with Imperial was substituted.

School officials said, however, that the homecoming dance and coronation of a queen would go on as scheduled Friday night.

Denisy Nominated

PARIS (AP) — Roger Saint's 3-year-old filly Denisy will enter the Washington, D.C. International race at Laurel Park, Nov. 11, it was announced Friday.

3 N. CAROLINA PLAYERS BOOTED OFF GRID TEAM

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., (AP)—Three North Carolina football players, two of them starters, were dropped from the team Friday for what Coach Jim Tatum said were "disciplinary reasons."

Cut from the squad on the eve of its game at Wake Forest were quarterback Dave Reed and tackle Leo Russavage, both seniors, and Bernie Donatelli, a junior guard. Tatum said he ordered them to turn in their uniforms after he learned of their infractions, the nature of which he did not disclose.

Busso Beats Gale Kirwin

NEW YORK (AP)—Favored Johnny Busso of New York spoiled substitute Gale Kerwin's big time debut Friday night by outpointing the Valley Stream, N. Y., lightweight in a bustling television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Busso weighed 138½, Kerwin 139½.

Promoted from the semifinals after first Paolo Rosi and then Ernie "Sonny Boy" Williams were stricken by the flu, Kerwin was leading until he ran into a flashing left and right to the chin that dropped him for a nine-count in the sixth round. The more experienced Busso, ninth ranking lightweight contender, kept his rally going to win the unanimous decision.

The officials voted for Busso this way: Judge Jack Gordon, 6-3-1; Judge Bill Recht 5-4-1; and Referee Teddy Martin five rounds for each but six points for Busso and five for Kerwin. The knock-out proved the difference on the referee's card. The Associated Press had Busso in front, 6-4.

Long Beach To Get PCL Club?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Examiner said Friday it has learned the Dodgers plan to move their Pacific Coast League franchise from Los Angeles to nearby Long Beach.

The newspaper said it got the information from "an authentic Long Beach source."

The PCL franchise in Los Angeles was acquired by the Dodgers early this year from the Chicago Cubs. Now that the Dodgers have moved here from Brooklyn themselves, they must relocate the PCL club if they want to keep it operating—and they say they do.

The Examiner said the plan would be to have the team play in Long Beach only when the Dodgers are on the road.

Long Beach had about 250,000 people when the last official census was taken in 1950. The latest estimate places the population at 320,000.

Charlie Tires Of Work In Front Office

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Charley Dressen said Friday night he has resigned his front office job with the Washington Senators and is considering offers from three other major league baseball clubs.

Dressen said he telephoned Calvin Griffith, president of the Senators, Wednesday and told him he was quitting.

"I'm writing Mr. Griffith Saturday to make it official," said Dressen, whose contract with the American League team ran through the 1959 season. He said the contract called for $25,000 a year and expenses.

Dressen said three major league clubs have contacted him and offered him jobs. He declined to identify the clubs, saying: "I wouldn't want to embarrass any of the teams if I don't take the jobs."

Dressen also declined to comment on whether he is considering signing with the new Los Angeles Dodgers as assistant to Manager Walt Alston.

Dressen did say, however, that Dodger vice president E. J. "Buzzy" Bavasi had asked Griffith for permission to talk to Dressen about a job with the Dodgers, a team Dressen managed to two National League pennants at Brooklyn.

NORTH PLATTE 11 HANDS SCOTTSBLUFF FIRST LOSS

Lincoln Star Special

NORTH PLATTE—The North Platte Bulldogs pulled one of the biggest upsets in prep play Friday night by tripping Scottsbluff 7-6.

The Bulldogs handed the Scottsbluff eleven its first defeat of the season.

North Platte started the scoring in the early moments of the second period. The touchdown play, set up by a recovered fumble on the Bison 26 yard line, occurred when Harlan Wacholtz flipped a 26-yard pass to Jerry Johnson, who was standing unguarded in the end zone. Johnson booted the ball over the goal posts for the extra point.

The Bison rallied in the third period as John Williamson raced 55 yards with a punt return to score the six pointer. The crucial extra point, attempted by Larry Wheeler, was blocked by speedy end Chuck Wansley who raced in from his position and fell on the ball.

Scottsbluff once again threatened in the final moments of the game when the Bison moved to the Bulldog 19, where it attempted a field goal. With seven seconds remaining in the game, Wheeler's try was wide and the North Platte team had won its second game of the season.

Williamson gained 136 of his team's 236 yards for the evening, compared to 121 yards for North Platte.

North Platte scoring: Touchdown—Johnson (26, pass from Wacholtz). PAT—Johnson (kick).
Scottsbluff scoring: Touchdown—Williamson (55, punt return).

Holy Name Tips St. Bon's, 13-6

Lincoln Star Special

COLUMBUS — Omaha Holy Name scored its first touchdown with 24 seconds remaining in the first half and then coasted to a 13-6 victory over Columbus St. Bonaventure's here Friday night.

Holy Name's first tally came as Bob Toohy tossed a 55 yard touchdown pass to Bill Dagerman in the final moments of the second period. Bob Decker converted with a kick.

In the third canto, Holy Name added more points to its growing margin when Bob Minarik capped a scoring campaign with a six yard plunge.

Alan Kusek accounted for the only Columbus tally of the evening, when he drove over from the three yard line in the fourth quarter.

Omaha Holy Name . . . 0 7 6 0—13
Columbus St. Bonaventure's 0 0 0 6—6
Omaha Holy Name scoring: Touchdown—Dagerman (55, pass from Toohy); Minarik (6, plunge); PAT—Decker (kick).
Columbus scoring: Touchdown—Kusek (3, run).

The two teams have been rated as outstanding in the National Industrial Basketball League.

Duck Hunting Too, Too Good

The latest weekly arrest record report issued by the State Game Commission Friday attested to some of the fabulous waterfowl shooting the state has had in recent weeks.

Of 31 arrests made by Nebraska conservation officers, 13 were for over bag limits of ducks.

Mobile Welcomes Hammerin' Hank

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Milwaukee star Hank Aaron was given a hero's welcome by Mobilians Friday.

The Negro outfielder was greeted by an estimated 2,000 persons as he and his wife and 7-month-old son Henry Jr., alighted from a train. It was Aaron's first visit home since Milwaukee defeated the New York Yankees in the World Series.

A big red and white sign proclaimed "Welcome Home, Hank," and a brass band was on hand to play "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

The 22-year-old star appeared somewhat bewildered as a horde of persons thronged around him to shake his hand and slap him on the back.

Mayor Joseph Langan presented Hank with a gold key to the city and a copy of a proclamation designating today as "Hank Aaron Day."

Disabled Hunters Warned By Steen

Free hunting and fishing permits which Nebraska issues to its totally disabled war veterans do not authorize them to hunt from a vehicle, Game Commission Director Mel Steen warned Friday.

A special permit from the Game Commission is required for vehicle hunting and fishing and is granted only when fully justified, he said.

All requests for such special permits must be accompanied by a statement from a licensed physician confirming that the applicant is unable to walk or to hunt or fish in the normal manner.

Lodge Blisters Russians In U.N.

...Charges 'Artificial War Scare'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States Friday accused the Soviet Union of raising an "artificial war scare" in the Middle East with the aim of turning the Arab nations into Soviet satellites.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge delivered a blistering indictment of the Soviet Union before the 82-nation general assembly as support developed for a move to have Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld take a personal role in the Middle East crisis.

At least five nations were working on such a proposal, to be submitted in the event Syria continues to refuse mediation efforts by King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand,

the Assembly president, adjourned the session until Monday. He pleaded with the members to regard the week end as an opportunity for employing quiet diplomacy, reducing tension and producing harmony.

Lodge declared the United States will not be halted by Soviet threats from carrying out the purposes of the Eisenhower Doctrine to aid Middle East countries "the Soviet Union seeks to destroy."

"Let there be no question about our capacity to offer this support," he said. "We are strong, and our allies are strong."

Posing As Savior

Lodge asserted the true aim of the Soviet Union in charging that the United States is prodding Turkey to attack Syria is to "pose before the world as the savior of the Arabs."

He said the Kremlin wants to "bully Turkey with threats of extinction and frighten the rest of us into doing nothing," and "blacken the name of the United States and destroy its historic friendship with the Middle East."

Lodge called the Soviet Union a "chronic law breaker."

"Here is the arsonist, trying his best to start another fire, and demanding the right to lead the fire brigade."

6 Persons Killed In Headon Crash

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—Six persons, including a Chicago family of four, were killed Friday when an automobile swerved across the dividing strip of a two-lane highway and smashed into another car.

Police identified the dead as Edward G. Baum Jr., 30, of Chicago; his wife, Sarah; their sons, Mike, 4, and David, 1; Louis Beaupre, 72, of Los Angeles, and Thomas Jefferson Lotspeich, also of Los Angeles.

Police said it had not been determined what caused Beaupre's car to jump the curb and careen across the 10-foot-wide dividing strip.

Speedy Girard Verdict Likely

William S. Girard (middle), the American GI tried in Japan on manslaughter charges in the fatal wounding of a Japanese woman on a rifle range, leaves court in Maebashi after testifying as final witness. Judge

Yazo Kawachi promised a speedy verdict, probably by Nov. 15. With Girard are Koh Takenaka (left), U. S. Army interpreter, and Maj. Stanley Levin, Girard's adviser. Levin is a Nebraskan. (International)

PRICES MAY LEVEL OFF

... Clague Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, indicated Friday there's an outside chance that prices may level off, possibly turn downward in January. They might even drop before then, he said, "but I doubt it."

The September rise of one-tenth of one per cent in the cost of living boosted the consumer price index to a record high of 121.1 per cent of the 1947-49 average making prices 3.4 per cent higher than a year ago.

Clague pointed out, however, that the September rise was much lower than normal for this time of year. It also is the smallest increase for any month since last November.

In a separate report, the Labor Department reported that the spendable earnings and the buying power of the average factory worker rose between August and September.

A bigger-than-expected drop in food prices kept the cost of living index from climbing even higher last month, Clague said. The nation's food prices dropped off by eight-tenths of one per cent.

Far Side Project May Mean Moon Will Be Circled

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP)—An authority on space research said Friday the "Far Side" high altitude research may lead to a rocket which will go around the moon and come back to the earth, or near enough to tell its builders what is on the Far Side of the moon. Dr. Fred S. Singer, 33, one of the U.S. pioneers and top authorities in space research, told employers of the Johns Hopkins University applied physics laboratory that it would be quite possible to develop an "escape vehicle" using the basic design of the Project Far Side equipment.

Singer said that later he learned a Russian scientist had published an article with a similar proposal to be called "Operation Boomerang."

The Far Side rocket device fired over the Pacific reportedly has reached an altitude of more than 4,000 miles.

Singer said an escape vehicle—one capable of getting away from the earth's gravitational field—can become a moon rocket "if it is aimed accurately."

He added it would be much easier to miss the moon than to hit it, but if the rocket scored a near miss on the moon it might be diverted by the moon's gravitational field, sent clear around the moon, and dispatched back toward the earth again—at least close enough for telemetering equipment to radio back information.

Guatemala Ends Its State Of Siege

GUATEMALA CITY (INS)—The state of siege or modified martial law which was clamped on Guatemala Tuesday, with a 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew, was lifted Friday.

The three man military junta ordered the lifting of the emergency measure which was established when disorders broke out in the capital after one of the candidates in last Sunday's election, Miguel Ydigoras, claimed that the government candidate was elected by fraud.

The junta which took over Thursday from provisional President Luis Arturo Gonzalez Lopez voided the results of the elections and promised to hold a new vote for President.

Didn't Know

GARY, Ind. (AP)—The Indiana University extension center here mailed cards to its students asking: "What do you think the effect of Sputnik will be on America's future?"

Ten per cent of the first and second year college students answered they didn't know Russia had launched a "moon" satellite.

Miller Compliments Youth On Sharp, Clear Questions

WASHINGTON (AP)—When the present generation of young people is running the government "they will do a better job than we are doing," Rep. Miller (R-Neb.) predicted Friday.

"Year by year the young people of America are taking an increased interest in the affairs of the state and nation," Miller said. "We need have no fears for the future."

The veteran Nebraska Congressman recently completed "youth wants to know" clinics in each of the 38 county seat towns in his district.

Miller, who conducts these clinics in alternate years, said: "The young people day after day met me with sharp, clear, penetrating questions on affairs of state. They want to know about every aspect of our federal government."

"I predict that when they are running the nation, they will do a better job than we are doing today."

Miller said each session of the clinic brought from 30 to 50 questions.

He said the students were highly interested in such things as the Arkansas segregation problem, Russia's satellite, the Senate racket hearings, defense and the missile program, the possibility of a third world war, natural resources and the United Nations.

Evasion Of Draft Law Is Charged

... By Gov. Faubus

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS)—Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus Friday branded the federalizing of state militiamen as a "clever scheme to circumvent" the national draft law and demanded a congressional investigation.

Faubus told a news conference he sent telegrams to President Eisenhower and Army Sec. Brucker and also presented his argument to Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Forces Committee.

It began when the Army enforced the integration of nine Negroes in Little Rock Central High School Sept. 25 by sending troops of the 101st Airborne Division to Little Rock and calling into federal service 10,500 men of the Arkansas National Guard.

Gov. Faubus Friday said he ordered Lt. Col. William C. Page, acting adjutant general, to accept men released from federal service. Faubus explained he did not want to jeopardize the seniority and service rating of the men.

80 Register As CYF Meet Begins Here

About 80 Nebraska young people registered Friday night for the three-day annual conference of the Christian Youth Fellowship of the Platte Valley Association of the Baptist General Conference here.

Between 125 and 150 youths are expected to attend, with registration continuing Saturday.

Services were held Friday night at the Temple Baptist Church, 50th and Randolph, and services will continue there Saturday and Sunday, with the conference concluding Sunday noon.

Gerald Healey, assistant coach at Bethel College, St. Paul, Minn., will be the main speaker at the conference, and Roberta Youngberg of Arcadia, current CYF president, will preside.

Election of new officers will be held Saturday and the annual banquet will be held Saturday night.

The Rev. Leslie E. Thomas is pastor of the host church, Temple Baptist Church.

Stocks Settle Back Gently

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market settled back gently Friday in a leisurely adjustment to the wild downward and upward swings of prior sessions this week.

Moderate losses taken by leading stocks Friday put the average back to exactly where it closed last Friday.

Volume dwindled to an about-average 2,400,000 shares compared with 4,030,000 Thursday.

Key issues showed losses running from fractions to a point or so for the most part. There was a scattering of small gainers.

On average, closing prices were well above their levels of the day before.

The general run of corporate news was mixed. Overall, reports of the economy supplied not much spur to prices either way. Money market developments, however, showed that the federal reserve board is still restraining credit.

The rise of the consumer price index to a new high for the 13th straight month was mildly bullish. So was the news that the Air Force "Far Side" missile soared more than 4,000 miles.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 30 cents to $156.70 by the close, compared with a rise of 1.30 on every other session this week. Of Friday's total, 573 fell and 329 rose. There were 46 new 1957 issues and two new issues.

Of the 16 most active stocks, 13 declined, mostly by small fractions, one advanced and two were unchanged.

On the American Stock Exchange the market trend also was mixed. The total of 830,000 shares compared with 1,430,000 Thursday.

WHEAT FUTURES FINISH STRONG

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures trade Friday, advancing more finished strong on the board of than a cent a bushel on good demand in late dealings.

Corn declined as much as a cent a bushel but other grains and soybeans ended about steady compared with Thursday's closes.

Demand for wheat reflected declines earlier this week and new high estimates of the 1957 crop were being impounded under the government loan program. Other factors in the upward move were a report of a steady cash wheat market and a USDA report showing stocks of wheat in all positions on Oct. 1 were smaller than a year ago.

On wheat closed 1/2 to 1/4 higher, corn 1/4 to 1/2 lower, soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 higher, 1/4 to 1/2 lower and 1/4 to 1/2 higher, 1/4 to 1/2 lower and 1/4 to 1/2 higher.

Teachers End Lincoln Meeting; 3,626 Attended

District I of the Nebraska State Education Assn. convention ended with sectional meetings Friday afternoon and registration figures show a total of 3,626 teachers attended the convention. "An Educated People Moves Freedom Forward," the theme for the National Education Assn. centennial year and for the district

Two More Unions Hit By Cleanup

... Of AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO Friday cracked down on two more unions in the corruption cleanup it launched with a suspension order against the teamsters.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council ordered the 160,000-member Bakery Workers and 44,000-member United Textile Workers (UTW) unions to agree by Nov. 15 to boot out officials accused of corruption and arrange conventions to elect new officers. If the unions don't comply, they face automatic suspension.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president and steersman of the labor cleanup drive, said both unions, like the 1½-million member teamsters, are liable to be expelled at the AFL-CIO convention in December unless they agree to ordered reforms.

Pains To Be Mapped

The embattled teamsters union, meanwhile, announced its executive board will meet next Thursday in Washington. It presumably will map plans in the face of the AFL-CIO ouster ultimatum and a Federal Court ruling that James R. Hoffa was illegally elected union president at the recent teamsters convention.

The AFL-CIO Council ordered the UTW to oust President Anthony Valente and cancel a just-revealed deal to give resigned UTW Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert $104,000 in severance pay—at the rate of $100 a week for the next 20 years.

The bakery workers were directed to kick out union President James G. Cross and reinstate Secretary-Treasurer Curtis R. Sims, ousted by Cross when Sims raised corruption charges against Cross.

Contractors Claim Highway Building Unionizing Asked

Nebraska Chapter headquarters of Associated General Contractors in Lincoln claimed Friday that a carpenters union has, in effect, asked state officials to unionize the highway building program in Nebraska.

The AGC chapter said the first step in this unionization move was the request for elimination of the "carpenter helper" category of road construction workers.

The AGC described that request, addressed by Carpenters Union officials to Gov. Victor Anderson last summer, as an effort "to get the Highway Department to draw a nearly impossible jurisdictional line between carpenters and laborers."

I convention, was chosen as a topic by Waurine Walker, former NEA president.

"The taxpayer needs education on the improvement of education," Miss Walker said. "The system of full education is not a luxury; it is a social necessity."

She noted that "50 per cent of the most capable high school graduates never go to college."

Miss Walker said:

"A growing number of influential Americans today doubt that our system of education has any thing to do with our world leadership... We need rededication to the principle of education for all."

Dr. Carleton Rogers, pastor of First Methodist Church in Elgin, Ill., discussed philosophies of life through the ages.

He said one cannot live unless he has an "inner alarm," the "upward pull," outward pressures and a sense of appreciation.

He said the upward pull—the relationship with God—is the most important.

Rep. Weaver Hopes Benson Will Resign

Nebraska Representative Phil Weaver of Falls City said in Lincoln Friday that he hoped for the resignation of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson "before too long."

Speaking before the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, Weaver said that records in Washington reveal that the Agriculture Department has spent more money on farm support during Benson's tenure than in the previous 25 years.

Weaver said that if Benson's theories would work in actual practice, things would be fine. He added that since they aren't working, Benson isn't getting the support of the farm population.

Less Foreign Aid

In favor of decreasing foreign aid expenditures, Weaver said, "We must quit spending tax money to the detriment of the American citizens." He said that the last session of Congress could have done away with a large amount of foreign aid spending.

The congressman said that he supported a proposal to return $300 million to the defense budget for guided missile research.

The Russians beat the United States in the launching of a satellite, he said, "because we in the past ten years have not appropriated funds to carry out research in these highly technical fields."

Weaver stated that another reason for the delay might have been caused by an interservice rivalry or jealousy of one branch wanting to get ahead of the other.

Typhoon Kills 9

PARIS (AP)—A typhoon named Irma killed nine persons and inflicted damage estimated at more than two million dollars in central Viet Nam last week, the French news agency reported from Saigon.
